BANDIT QUEEN

By day Vivian McDonald smiled at patrons in a hotel cafeteria in Houston, Tex. By night she went out with her sweetheart, Earnie Shoquist and his gang and watched them rob spooning motorists. Shoquist did it once too often He was shot and killed while attempting to rob a party of autoists. His confederates were rounded up and now Vivian, confessed and repentant, is in jail.

APPEALS MADE TO HARDING

Late President's Name Mentioned in Forbes Tiral

CHICAGO—(By United Press)—The late President Harding was appealed to in an effort to curb Col. Chas. R Forbes' attentions to Mrs Mortimer, Elias H. Mortimer, her husband, chief government witness in the Forbes-Thompson veteran bureau, hospital fraud trial, testified today.

Mortimer did not relate the result of the appeal, mentioning this detail voluntarily when asked how often he called at the White House

"Twice," the witness said. "Once when Mr. Williams, my wife's uncle, called on the president and protested against Col. Forbes running around with Mrs. Mortimer. They were living together in various big hotels"

ADMITS INDICTMENT

Mortimer brought this out during cross examination by Randolph Laughlin, attorney for J. W Thompson, Forbes' co-defendant

Mortimer admitted from the witness stand today that he was indicted by a New York grand jury for conspiracy to violate the Volstead law.

This admission was drawn from Mortimer by James Easby-Smith, attorney for Col. Forbes, former veterans bureau chief.

He was allowed to question the witness on the New York indictment by a court ruling which followed a lengthy and heated debate between opposing counsel in Judge Geo A. Carpenter's chambers

Mortimer admitted he was placed under $5,000 bail, but insisted it was later paid back and the case never went to trial.

Easby-Smith then laid the foundation for impeachment of Mortimer's testimony by asking him regarding certain statements he is alleged to have made. The witness denied the statements and Easby-Smith turned Mortimer over to Randolph Laughlin, attorney for J. W. Thompson, St Louis contractor, and co-defendant with Forbes.

VANDERLIP CALLED

Attempting to impeach the testimony of Mortimer, counsel for the defense have called Frank A. Vanderlip, former president of the National City Bank, New York, to testify against Mortimer.

Vanderlip, expected here today, is said to have heard part of Mortimer's story while he was conducting his unofficial investigation of alleged corruption in Washington. He will tell Mortimer's story as he heard it a year ago, and the defense, by comparison, hopes to establish that the special department of justice agent has "added to his story" every time he told it.

Mortimer, shortly before court closed yesterday, charged Col. Forbes with claiming: "I can get you whatever you ask. I am an intimate friend of Jesse Smith. Attorney-General Daugherty and I are pals"

$200,000 LOAN IS HELD UP

MANAGER FACES CHARGES IN THEFTS

Sandusky Representative of Lima Firm Held

EMBEZZLEMENT ADMITTED

Loan Firm Will Not Lose Thru Defalcations

C R Wormwood, manager of the Sandusky branch of the City Loan and Savings Co. here, was arrested there Tuesday upon complaint of the company, charged with embezzling $4,500 thru fake applications on nine accounts there.

He was arraigned in the mayor's court at Sandusky shortly after his arrest and entered a plea of guilty to the charge He was bound over to the grand jury under $5,000 bail

E C May, of Lima, private investigator in the employ of the company, filed the affidavit for Wormwood's arrest following a checkup of the books at the Sandusky branch, after officials had became suspicious of the veracity of reports received here.

NO LOSS

No loss will be suffered by the company as the result of Wormwood's activities, officials here made known Wednesday. The Sandusky manager was bonded for an amount far greater than that obtained by him.

Wormwood will be tried at Sandusky. His bail, which was signed by relatives, calls for his appearance before the next session of the grand jury.

The accused has been in the employe of the company for 18 months His honesty was never questioned, even after he purchased an automobile and was known to have been living far beyond his means until the suspicious reports which resulted in his arrest were received here.

CLEAR TRACK FOR MUSCLE SHOALS

Senate Votes to Reach Decision on Issue ated Press)—The senate agreed unanimously today to hold the Muscle Shoals issue before the senate until final disposition is made of the question.

WASHINGTON — (By United Press) — Three major amendments to the Underwood bill for disposal of Muscle Shoals, were scheduled for debate in the senate today and leaders hoped for speedy action on them so that a vote on the measure might be had before tonight

The amendments are 1—To provide for government retention of the project for ten years for the purpose of exterminating with nitrogen fixation processes.

2—To make the United States government the guarantor of bonds issued by any lessee

3—To vest in the secretary of war authority to make rates on Muscle Shoals power sold outside Alabama

The first amendment, offered by Sen. Smith, Democrat, of South Carolina, is regarded favorably by many senators but does not appear to command a majority

Its support is derived from the belief that present processes of air nitrate production are too expensive for commercial use.

Jarvis, an old cronie of Sir Thomas', was convicted for conspiracy to defraud the province in a bond sale. Sir Thomas, however, does not believe his friend is guilty.

GROCERY WAREHOUSE DESTROYED BY FLAMES

Loss to Contents Estimated at $20,000

FIRE OBTAINED HEADWAY

Departments Have Hard Battle Early Wednesday

Fire of unknown origin practically destroyed the Meo Brothers Storage Grocery, at 898 S. Broadway, at an early hour Wednesday morning. A large grocery stock valued at $20,000 was consumed in the blaze.

Insurance totalling $18,000 which is held by Alphonse Meo, head of company, partially covers the loss to the contents Damage to the building is estimated at $700.

BUILDING DESTROYED

Firemen battled the flames for more than two hours before they were able to gain the upper hand. The building was gutted before they arrived.

The flames were discovered by people living nearest to the grocery, who called the fire department at 3 a. m and notified Alphonse Meo at his home, at 659 S Main-st.

When firemen from Central station arrived they found trucks from two sub-stations doing their best to battle the flames, but the building was already gutted and the stock was fast being consumed

The building served as a warehouse for the Meo Brothers Grocery Co, with headquarters at 421 S. Main-st. A score of smaller groceries were supplied from the warehouse

TAX DELAY NEW PROBLEM FOR STATE

State Auditor Asks Authority to Make Loans

CRABBE GETS QUESTION

Lima School Population Shows Good Increase

An opinion from Attorney General C C. Crabbe, has been sought by the Lima board of education relative as to what course to pursue to obtain financial relief to operate until taxes are available.

Dr. R. A. Buchanan, president, informed the board that he had written to State Auditor Tracy explaining the situation.

Tracy informed him that such a situation has never before arisen and he has no precedent to follow He saw no way to grant the board a loan from state funds, because the situation is so unique and is not covered by law.

But he suggested that the board get a ruling from the attorney general. He intimated that Crabbe will likely rule that a loan can be made.

Paul T. Landis, city solicitor and counsel for the school board, has already written to Crabbe, but as yet has no answer.

$200,000 NEEDED

The board wants to borrow $200,000 either from local banks or from the state.

Oculists in the city have agreed to cooperate with the board in bettering the vision of children whose parents are unable to pay.

The specialists will examine the eyes on order of the school board and glasses will be fitted by local optical concerns. Where parents are able to pay, they will be allowed to do so Otherwise the board will stand the cost.

School nurses will work full time with one month's vacation during the summer. Heretofore they have worked only 10 months in the year. Much better work can be done it is thought, as corrective treatment can given easier in vacation time than in the school year.

The building committee was given power to decide on and purchase five or six portable school houses to be placed where needed at the opening of the second semester

NEW STRUCTURES

The buildings will be new, as the Toledo board, which originally agreed to sell five houses, reneged on their agreement Furniture will also be purchased during this week to furnish the rooms.

Establishment of two low vision classes in different parts of the city was recommended to the board by Superintendent R E Offenhauer The classes will in a measure correspond with the school for cripples. Children with vision less than 50 per cent of normal will be sent to the school

Report of the superintendent disclosed that total school enrollment in November was 8,778 Lowell building led with 98 1 per cent present

A meter to register the heat of room, was purchased by the board and will be placed in the Irving building The machine registers the heat and by pressing a button the janitor can tell what rooms are hot or cold without leaving the furnace room Regulation of the heat is also placed in complete control of the janitor, who will make hourly tests and report each day to the building superintendent

REPORT GIVEN

Report of Supt Offenhauer is in part as follows

"Due to the great loss of time that is occasioned by illness and accidents, I am asking that the board approve the appointment of a teacher for bedside teaching It often happens that we have a pupil who, by a short illness, is so put back in his work that he loses the entire year If we had some teacher who could go into the hospitals and into the homes and keep the pupils in touch with their work and help them, over difficulties, it would in a great majority of cases make it possible for the pupil to keep along with his class and make his grade

"Total enrollment for Lima schools during the month of November was 8,778 as compared with 8,177 a year ago this same month. In the present total we include the continuation school last year counted as night school Not including this school we have

Extra Workers Required For Holiday Mail

WASHINGTON — (By Associated Press) — Between 40,000 and 50,000 extra employes will be required to handle the peak of Christmas mail this year, postal officials today estimated. The extra cost was estimated at about $2,500,000.

The New York post office and its branches will require at least 2,000 extra employes with a corresponding increase planned for the other large offices thruout the country, and the railway mail service will need an added force of from ten to twenty thousand

To handle the rush of Christmas mail smoothly even with the added army of employes, the post office department is stressing the necessity of public cooperation in pushing its shop early, mail early campaign The increased postal force will be in full swing when the peak of the heavy mail is reached about December 23

While in China he married Edith Gruson, daughter of a Magdeburg steel manufacturer. They have one daughter.

LIMA MOTORISTS' BODY HIT BY CRABBE RULING

License Distribution Here to Be Discontinued

REBATES MAY BE GIVEN

Orders for 1925 Must Be Sent to Columbus

Automobile clubs and deputy state registrars of automobiles cannot charge a fee for issuing license tags, Attorney General C. C. Crabbe, ruled Wednesday in an opinion to Orel Myers, prosecuting attorney of Darke-co.

The opinion, it was learned, was made t osettle a dispute between two rival distributors in Greenville, one of whom was plannin gto collect a fee, and the other having volunteered to issue tags free.

Crabbe's ruling will hit the Lima Automobile club which in past year's has collected a fee of 25 from non-members for the service of obtaining and distributing the license plates.

If Crabbe's ruling stands, James J. Heffner, manager of the club, declared the organization will no longer act as general distributors in Allen-co.

Members of the club, however, will be taken care of. The remainder of the motoring public will either be compelled to get get their license plates from a new distributor or send to Secretary of State Thad H. Brown at Columbus direct.

MANY SETS

More than 9,000 sets of plates were sold to the public thru the automobile club in 1924, Heffner declared. One fourth or more of the number were taken out by members and the remainder sold to non-members.

Cost of distribution Heffner said, amounted to approximately $4,000, or in excess of 30 cents a set.

"I never have looked upon the 25 cents as being compensation to the club," Heffner said. "I regarded it as payment for the expense entailed in procuring and issuing the tags.

"Under Crabbe's opinion we will be able to reduce our office force, by dispensinging with services of two girls we planned to hire to help issue plates."

Whether or not the club will issue a rebate to persons who have already bought license plates for 1925 and have paid the 25 cents fee or rebate fees for 1924 will depend on the opinion of attorneys for the club. The question will be put up to them, Heffner said. In case a rebate is ordered, some $2,000 will revert back to the public.

ALL CHARGE

Out of the 80 odd automobile clubs in the state, Heffner said, all of them charge a fee with exception of Cleveland and Columbus

Cleveland is said to have planned to charge a fee in the new year. Columbus club, being in the state capitol, made no charge As motorists could be served from Secretary Brown's office. However the club assisted in the work by taking charge of direct sales.

While it is probable that members alone will be supplied with plates by the club, Heffner asserted the organization will have plenty of blank applications. Anyone wanting them can get them free. The motorist will however have to make them out, and send them to Columbus.

Crabbe's opinion will settle a much mooted point. He held that the law expressly provides no compensation shall be collected. Lynn B Timmerman, president of the Lima Automobile club, stated he believed no profit should be made from sale of plates, but thought a distributor should be entitled to a fee to cover expenses incurred in handling them

CRABBE OPINION

In his opinion, the attorney general points out that the law governing the registration and licensing of automobiles points out specifically that no additional charge shall be made and calls attention to a law expressly prohibiting state officials from demanding or receiving rewards other than are expressly provided, under penalty of a fine not exceeding $200 or 20 days' imprisonment or both

The attorney general also expressed the opinion that such fees collected in the past could be recovered from those making the charge In some counties, he said, the 25 cents additional fee collected probably amounted to several hundred or perhaps thousands of dollars

Assistant Secretary of State Joseph Baird on being advised of the attorney general's ruling said it would probably disjoint the machinery which has been built up in the various counties for distribution of automobile license tags as in order to obtain competent distributors it was necessary to grant them some compensation.

HE'D TAKE JOB AMONG LEPERS

WASHINGTON — (By United Press)—Paul H. McKenzie, 24, of Delaware, O., who served 13 months in the army overseas, today applied to Sen. Frank B. Willis for all the details concerning the job of guard at the Hawaiian Islands, United States leper colony.

Sen. Willis referred McKenzie's letter to the treasury department.

McKenzie asked about a six-year appointment The letter said a number of other Delaware men were interested in the same proposition.

NOTE EXPLAINS ATTITUDE

Britain Makes Known Position Under Dawes Plan

AMERICA STANDS FIRM

U. S. to Insist on Rights for Payment

WASHINGTON — (By Associated Press) — The state department has received a communication from the British government explaining the attitude of Great Britain on the question of collecting war damage claims from Germany by the United States under the Dawes reparation plan,

MUGHES FIRM

The British communciation now is being studied and will be answered within a few days. In the light of what has been said by administration spokesmen on the question involved it is considered certain that Secretary Hughes will insist upon recognition of the principle that American claims against Germany shall be treated as equal to those of other powers

The Washington government always has taken the position that it is entitled to share to a limited extent in the proceeds of the Dawes plan and expects to be given the support of the allied governments. It has been pointed out by authorized spokesmen that the United States is entitled to be paid under its treaty with Germany just as the allied powers are entitled to payment under the terms of the Versailles treaty. In support of this position it is said that the American treaty with Germany furnishes both a legal and an equitable right for the collection of war claims from Germany out of benefits derived by that nation under the Dawes plan.

UNITED STATES SHARES

Since the United States was a participant in a common victory it is held that the allied governments cannot take all the assets of Germany and leave the American government in the position of being unable to collect its Rhine army costs as well as the claims which are being adjusted by the German-American mixed claims commission

In advancing the explanation of the American position to the other interested governments it also was made clear that the United States had no desire to be oppressive or to make any other than just claims defensible on legal grounds and having an equity apparent to all

TAX VALUATION HEARING ENDS

Railways' Property Figures Are Boosted Here

$100,000 IN DISPUTE

Lima Street Railway Objects to Value Set

Corporation hearings before the county board of revision have been completed, Harry E. Botkins, county treasurer, announced Wednesday.

The public corporations in the city were called in at request of the state tax commission to fix their property valuations in connection with the general reappraisal of real estate. The state body made the request in the belief that local officials could arrive at the true values much easier than strangers.

Right-of-way of railroads thru the city, Botkins said, in some instances will be ten times the old valuation. No previous increase of consequence had been made since the roads were constructed.

TAX INCREASE

Building valuations have been increased in accordance with the general advance of adjoining property.

Protests may be filed with the state tax commission against the new value placed on the properties of the Lima Street Railways Co.

It was learned that there is some $100,000 difference between the figures the company is willing to accept and those outlined by the board of revision.

No statement of proposed action could be obtained Wednesday from John L. Cable, chief counsel for the traction line.

He said that he was not in a position to state whether a protest to the state body will be made, or if the company will institute injunction proceedings against the county to prevent Auditor C. R. Phillips from assessing, and Botkins from collecting taxes based on the revised valuation.

Among the corporations which were called in to discuss the new values were the Nickel Plate, Erie, Pennsylvania, B. & O., D. T. & I. railways, Ohio Power Co., Lima-Defiance Traction Co., Lima & Toledo railway and the Lima Street Railway Co.

PAN AMERICAN LABOR BODY ELECTS GOMPERS

MEXICO CITY — Samuel Gompers, veteran American labor leader was re-elected president of the Pan-American Federation of Labor at the closing meeting yesterday. Confined to his hotel with a cold he sent a message to the delegates. Luis Morones, the Mexican minister of labor, was elected vice president, this office being created especially for him. The next convention will be held at Washington in 1926.

The final session was marked by a passage of a resolution, introduced by the American delegation inviting all the Latin-American governments to extend the jurisdiction of the Pan-American Union so as to enable it peacefully to settle disputes arising between any two countries in the western hemisphere.

NEW SCHOOL IS NEED HERE

Offenhauer Stresses Need to Board of Education

School buildings in Lima should be properly maintained and one 16-room building should be added to the city school system each year. This statement by Superintendent of Schools R. E. Offenhauer was made to members of the board of education at their regular meeting Tuesday night.

This one building should be built and paid for with hard cash each year, Offenhauer added. School officials should see the wisdom of such a policy and should not take up the usual method of continuously piling up indebtedness, he says.

150 TREES ARE DELIVERED

Business Section Takes on Holiday Spirit

STORES JOIN MOVEMENT

350 Evergreens Will Grace Streets Over Christmas

First consignment of Christmas trees for decoration of the business district over the holid s was delivered Wednesday mor ing by Altschul Bros. in response to orders filed by William Paul Gallagher post, American Legion, and Lima Board of Commerce, sponsors of the movement to place evergreen trees in the flag pole sockets on the streets before business houses

One hundred and fifty trees made up the first consignment. The remaining 200 trees will be delivered to the merchants cooperating in the plan, either Wednesday afternoon or Thursday morning.

A number of merchants along Main-st, who were the first to get their trees, immediately placed the evergreens in the flagpole holes along the curbing in front of their establishments. When the final order has been delivered, it is thought the 350 trees will have been placed along the curbing in the downtown section.

Later on, probably the latter part of this week or early next week, the trees will be decorated with Christmas paraphernalia and since most of the trees will be located where the boulevard lights will shine upon them, an unusual spectacle should be formed. It also is likely that most of the trees will be electrically lighted, making an even more imposing sight.

Lima is thought to be the first city in the country to use such an idea. The suggestion was made last week by a subscriber to the Lima News and immediately was approved by the merchants, most of whom said they would cooperate if the idea were boosted. William Paul Gallagher post and the Board of Commerce put it over.

Since the suggestion came out, Ottawa and Delphos are said to have taken up the plan.

HOPE OF RESCUING CREW IS ABANDONED

BALTIMORE, Md. — With the finding of the bodies of Elwood Murray and a man named Patterson, members of the crew of the 93-ton power boats A. Woodall, which was burned early Tuesday in upper Chesapeake bay, hope of finding alive any of the remaining members of the crew, believed to have numbered nine, has been practically abandoned.

The vessel, owned by the Marine Transport Corporation, was enroute from Baltimore to Philadelphia with a cargo of gasoline and alcohol. The fire is believed to have resulted from an explosion.

TREASURE HUNTERS TO DIG FOR HIDDEN GOLD

MANILA — Two chests of Spanish gold said to have been hidden 100 years ago in a cave in the typhoon-swept hills of Claro Babuyan, one of the northernmost islands of the Philippine group, is challenging the spirit of several venturesome Manilians who are preparing to go in seach of the treasure. The gold, according to the natives, was secreted by an old woman who sought protection for her treasure from the frequent earthquakes and volcanic eruptions on the islands.

The crew of a coastguard cutter which recently visited the island brought word that two brass cannons about five feet long and a ship's bell taken from a British warship wrecked there many years agowere found. The bell is used to summon worshippers to a dilapidater chapel which is without a priest. There are two volcanoes on the island.

HELD TO GRAND JURY

SPRINGFIELD, O. — Ezra Thompson of Bessemer, Ala., and Guy Thompson of Birmingham, Ala., were bound over to the federal grand jury by United States Commissioner Thomas F. Hudson late yesterday accused of transporting a stolen automobile from Birmingham to this city. The men were arrested Saturday when it was charged that they attempted to sell the alleged stolen car here.

For that work I would recommend the appointment with your approval of Miss Marian Basinger.

APPOINTMENTS

On account of the intensive physical education program that we have been planning and working out, the physical education work at South High school proves to be more than the teachers in charge can do and as an assistant to the physical education department at South High school I appoint with your approval Waldo Rose.

"Also, on account of the resignation of A. G. Williams as head of the history department at South High school, I appoint with your approval Miss Ava Ballou as acting head of the department. Both of these teachers hold certificates that are valid in Lima.

"In my former reports I have mentioned the fact that we are very much interested in the teaching of reading and in order that we may properly encourage and test our reading, I would like to have your approval in the purchase of five sets of Silent Reading material that we would like to use in the second grade of the city. With five sets of 40 books each we can so distribute the material that every school can use it. The total cost of this material will be about $100 and using it in this way will necessitate our moving it from building to bulding during the week, but we would be very glad to make the test and I am sure that it will help out greatly in our work."

SALESMANSHIP TALK IS GIVEN AT LION'S CLUB

"The Psychology of Salesmanship," was the subject of a talk given before the Lima Lions club Wednesday noon at Barr hotel by Dr. John E. Kaufman, of Piqua. Mrs. Mary Flager, soprano, accompanied by Miss Anna Cantwell on the piano, furnished the musical part of the program.

Next week J. E. Brown, president of the Manhattan Single Tax club, New York City, will speak to the club on "Taxation."

BUSSES MUST MOVE

COLUMBUS — The Ohio supreme court today refused to grant a stay of execution of the public utilities commission's recent order removing jitney busses from the public square in Youngstown. Under this ruling the bus owners are obliged to obey the utilities commission order at least until after the case is heard on its merits.

Popcorn Stand Leaves Street

Wednesday saw the passing of the popcorn stand on W. High-st west of Main-st, and the passing of the last public stand from streets in the business district.

The old red stand which has graced the side of the Old National building for years has been moved upon orders of City Manager C. A. Bingham as was the Ralph Williams news stand on Main-st several months ago when the street was paved.

Erection of new stands on the street is prohibited under a city ordinance 17 years old. This ordinance is to be enforced, according to Manager Bingham, who has the support of city commission in keeping the streets cleared of private businesses.

ELECTRICIANS SEEKING IDENTIFICATION BADGES

Electricians and helpers in conference Wednesday morning with City Manager C. A. Bingham petitioned the city for a permit badge for all workers so they can be identified in entering homes in the city.

The workers claim that without the city badges they meet with trouble in going out on jobs at houses and the delay is expensive. The bodges, which they are willing to pay a nominal cost to secure, would also prevent other persons in entering homes under guise as electricians or helpers as has been attempted here.

MORTALITY REPORT

Report of the births and deaths in Allen-co during the month of November shows that there were 41 births and 22 deaths. Ages of the fatalities are two under one year, two between 10 and 20 years, one death between 40 and 50 and nine deaths were reported for people over 60 years of age. No deaths were reported from the State Hospital which, according to records, is most extraordinary.

TAX VALUATION HEARING ENDS

Railways' Property Figures Are Boosted Here

$100,000 IN DISPUTE

Lima Street Railway Objects to Value Set

Corporation hearings before the county board of revision have been completed, Harry E. Botkins, county treasurer, announced Wednesday.

The public corporations in the city were called in at request of the state tax commission to fix their property valuations in connection with the general reappraisal of real estate. The state body made the request in the belief that local officials could arrive at the true values much easier than strangers.

Right-of-way of railroads thru the city, Botkins said, in some instances will be ten times the old valuation. No previous increase of consequence had been made since the roads were constructed.

TAX INCREASE

Building valuations have been increased in accordance with the general advance of adjoining property.

Protests may be filed with the state tax commission against the new value placed on the properties of the Lima Street Railways Co.

It was learned that there is some $100,000 difference between the figures the company is willing to accept and those outlined by the board of revision.

No statement of proposed action could be obtained Wednesday from John L. Cable, chief counsel for the traction line.

He said that he was not in a position to state whether a protest to the state body will be made, or if the company will institute injunction proceedings against the county to prevent Auditor C. R. Phillips from assessing, and Botkins from collecting taxes based on the revised valuation.

Among the corporations which were called in to discuss the new values were the Nickel Plate, Erie, Pennsylvania, B. & O., D. T. & I. railways, Ohio Power Co., Lima-Defiance Traction Co., Lima & Toledo railway and the Lima Street Railway Co.

PAN AMERICAN LABOR BODY ELECTS GOMPERS

MEXICO CITY — Samuel Gompers, veteran American labor leader was re-elected president of the Pan-American Federation of Labor at the closing meeting yesterday. Confined to his hotel with a cold he sent a message to the delegates. Luis Moroños, the Mexican minister of labor, was elected vice president, this office being created especially for him. The next convention will be held at Washington in 1926.

The final session was marked by a passage of a resolution, introduced by the American delegation inviting all the Latin-American governments to extend the jurisdiction of the Pan-American Union so as to enable it peacefully to settle disputes arising between any two countries in the western hemisphere.

NEW SCHOOL IS NEED HERE

Offenhauer Stresses Need to Board of Education

School buildings in Lima should be properly maintained and one 16-room building should be added to the city school system each year. This statement by Superintendent of Schools R. E. Offenhauer was made to members of the board of education at their regular meeting Tuesday night.

This one building should be built and paid for with hard cash each year, Offenhauer added. School officials should see the wisdom of such a policy and should not take up the usual method of continuously piling up indebtedness, he says.

NEW TRAFFIC SIGNS TO BE TRIED OUT BY CITY

Six new traffic signs at three thru street intersections are to be placed by the city as an experiment to determine the kind of signs best suited for the purpose.

The signs, over two feet in diameter an dmarked," stop—Thru Street, are lettered in black on a yellow blackground. They are to be suspended in the middle of the street above the driving surface on wires strung across the street.

The six signs that have been prepared are to be hung at the intersection of North and Metcalf-sts. Main and Kibby-sts and at Elm and McDonel-sts.

DISCHARGED DRY OFFICER VISITS OLD HAUNTS

COLUMBUS—Frank S. Evans, whose resignation as chief deputy state prohibition commissioner was asked for and received by Commissioner B. F. McDonald Monday, appeared at his office for the first time today since the incident.

McDonald was not present when Evans was there. He said if he had been he would have discharged him on the spot, because of Evans' conduct, as reported to him by employes of the department. Evans' resignation takes effect Monday.

INTIMATION MADE HUMAN FLESH SOLD

HANOVER, Germany — (By United Press)—Witnesses at the trial of Fritz Haarmann, accused of murdering 27 youths, testified today that the prisoner sold meat frequently, the intimation being that this was human flesh.

It also was brought out that Hanover police refused to act when neighbors complained of uncanny events transpiring in Haarmann's hovel. The accused man had served the police as a "stool pigeon."

150 TREES ARE DELIVERED

Business Section Takes on Holiday Spirit

STORES JOIN MOVEMENT

350 Evergreens Will Grace Streets Over Christmas

First consignment of Christmas trees for decoration of the business district over the holid s was delivered Wednesday morning by Altschul Bros. in response to orders filed by William Paul Gallagher post, American Legion, and Lima Board of Commerce, sponsors of the movement to place evergreen trees in the flag pole sockets on the streets before business houses

One hundred and fifty trees made up the first consignment. The remaining 200 trees will be delivered to the merchants cooperating in the plan, either Wednesday afternoon or Thursday morning.

A number of merchants along Main-st, who were the first to get their trees, immediately placed the evergreens in the flagpole holes along the curbing in front of their establishments. When the final order has been delivered, it is thought the 350 trees will have been placed along the curbing in the downtown section.

Later on, probably the latter part of this week or early next week, the trees will be decorated with Christmas paraphernalia and since most of the trees will be located where the boulevard lights will shine upon them, an unusual spectacle should be formed. It also is likely that most of the trees will be electrically lighted, making an even more imposing sight.

Lima is thought to be the first city in the country to use such an idea. The suggestion was made last week by a subscriber to the Lima News and immediately was approved by the merchants, most of whom said they would cooperate if the idea were boosted. William Paul Gallagher post and the Board of Commerce put it over.

Since the suggestion came out, Ottawa and Delphos are said to have taken up the plan.

HOPE OF RESCUING CREW IS ABANDONED

BALTIMORE, Md. — With the finding of the bodies of Elwood Murray and a man named Patterson, members of the crew of the 93-ton power boats A. Woodall, which was burned early Tuesday in upper Chesapeake bay, hope of finding alive any of the remaining members of the crew, believed to have numbered nine, has been practically abandoned.

The vessel, owned by the Marine Transport Corporation, was enroute from Baltimore to Philadelphia with a cargo of gasoline and alcohol. The fire is believed to have resulted from an explosion.

...strong. They are volunteers, mostly desperate characters. The Foreign Legion is always placed in the most dangerous position. Officers declare that the average life of a Legionaire is about two months. The entire Legion has been wiped out several times in the past three years. About 20 per cent of the Legionnaires are former German soldiers. Then there is a scattering of Russians, Italians, Cubans and Austrians. The Legion is now below Zocoaba, fighting off the snipers of Abdul Krim.

MOORS BOLDER

With the start of the retreat the Moors became emboldened and despite the greatest effort to provide protection by scores of outposts, protected by barbed wire and sand bags, handsful of Moors slip thru and pick off Spanish soldiers. The outposts are erected upon the crest of every arid hilltop beside the road. But concealing themselves in remarkable fashion, the pick of the Moorish marksmen, who are remarkable shots, get within range. They shoot, flee, reappear elsewhere. It is like fighting mosquitoes. Within sight are 25 posts with a dozen to 50 men guarding every dominating point. Yet Moorish bullets come whizzing over the congested roads.

As villages upon hills are ...battle. Hence, as the correspondent was leaving here, he saw artillery fire opened upon such a village on a nearby hill. It was to be methodically demolished.

Krim's guerillas have now become so bold that they have started sniping on the outskirts of Tetuan, the Spanish headquarters. The wireless stations were fired on last night and lively exchanges of shots were audible on the outskirts at nightfall. The entire zone is consequently in a virtual state of seige.

PERIL OF BULLETS

No one stirs abroad without realizing the peril of bullets speeding from darkness. Primo Rivera's task is one of eternal vigilance to keep a few roads open.

The narrow guage railway from ceutat to Tetuan is guarded by posts, established every few hundred yards on both sides of the track for the entire length of the road. The Tangiers-Tetuan road also is guarded.

The military commanders agree that it will be an excellent military feat to extricate 40,000 men from such territory with small losses. From Ben Karrieh to Teutan the going will be somewhat easier as the valley is wider and the road is in better condition.

AMERICA FAVORS LEAGUE PLAN

U. S. Willing to Sit in International Law Conference

WASHINGTON — An American judge backed by the moral support of the United States government will sit with 10 other international jurist to be chosen by the league of nations council to codify international law. Enthusiastic approval of the league plan, which carried out repeated suggestioins of President Coolidge and Secretary Hughes, was expressed by administration spokesmen today.

Participation in this league activity will be in line with this government's cooperation in the league's anti-narcotic conference and other humanitarian activities.

In accepting the expected invitation from the league, his government, however, will point out again that it does not hereby undertake any league of nations commitments.

"It's a long road and a difficult one," said a cabinet officer today, commenting on the necessity for beginning codification of international law as an aid to peace. "It will be easier for the expert jurists to reach agreement among themselves, than for their various goverrments to ratify the code they produce."

The only way the United States can become party to such an agreement, it was pointed out in this connection, is thru the accustomed medium of treaties ratified by the senate.

Senate support as well as that of the executive branch of the government is believed assured, however, for any established code of world law.

The method employed by the league council in initiating its plan thru the appointment of jurists, rather than by a political conference of the powers, follows the suggestion embodied in Pres. Coolidge's message to congress last week.

TROTSKY IS ILL

MOSCOW — Four physicians issued a formal bulletin today stating that Leon Trotsky's health required his immediate departure from Moscow for a warmer climate in the Caucasus.

KID M'COY IN UGLY MOOD

Attorney Charges Boxer Killed And Robbed Woman

LOS ANGELES — (By Associated Press) — Nine women rounded out the jury of 12 citizens in the superior court today awaiting the presentation of testimony which attorneys for the state predicted would prove Kid McCoy, former idol of the prize ring, guilty of the murder of Mrs. Theresa Mors here last August.

A negro janitor, David Hiram, was called to give the first prosecution testimony. He found Mrs. Mors dead of a bullet wound on the floor of the apartment she and McCoy had been occupying as "Mr. and Mrs. N. Shields."

In his opening statement yesterday, E. J. Dennison, deputy district attorney said McCoy was "in an ugly mood" on the afternoon of Aug. 12; at 8 p. m., that night he was drunk; at 11 p. m., Mrs. Mors was shot; at 1:30 a. m., McCoy staggered into the home of Mrs. Jennie Thomas, his sister, told her he had killed a woman, left $30,000 worth of jewelry in his sister's keeping, made a will and left; at 3:45 a. m., he wandered into Hollywood police station and told officers "tomorrow I'll be in the tank"; at 9 a. m., he was in the Mors antique shop looking for Albert A. Mors, husband of the slain woman, and before 10 a. m., he had shot and wounded three persons in or near the establishment.

"We expect to prove," Dennison told the jury, "that McCoy's motive for the murder was jealousy, that he pilfered the body after death and previously had stolen articles from the shop."

POLICE PREPARE TO COMBAT CRIME WAVE

CHICAGO — Extraordinary police measures were in effect today to combat the expected cold weather crime wave.

The seven day week and the ten hour day went into effect at 8 a. m. today in place of the six day week and the eight hour day. In addition to plain clothes men, detectives assigned to flivver squads and other units of the force not assigned to patrol duty, were ordered to do certain street work.

... The Foreign Legion is always placed in the most dangerous position. Officers declare that the average life of a Legionaire is about two months. The entire Legion has been wiped out several times in the past three years. About 30 per cent of the Legionnaires are former German soldiers. Then there is a scattering of Russians, Italians, Cubans and Austrians. The Legion is now below Zoco... bas, fighting off the snipers of Abdul Krim.

MOORS BOLDER

With the start of the retreat the Moors became emboldened and despite the greatest effort to provide protection by scores of outposts, protected by barbed wire and sand bags, handsful of Moors slip thru and pick off Spanish soldiers. The outposts are erected upon the crest of every arid hilltop beside the road. But concealing themselves in remarkable fashion, the pick of the Moorish marksmen, who are remarkable shots, get within range. They shoot, flee, reappear elsewhere. It is like fighting mosquitoes. Within sight are 25 posts with a dozen to 50 men guarding every dominating point. Yet Moorish bullets come whizzing over the congested roads.

As villages upon hills are ... pondent was leaving here, he saw artillery fire opened upon such a village on a nearby hill. It was to be methodically demolished.

Krim's guerillas have now become so bold that they have started sniping on the outskirts of Tetuan, the Spanish headquarters. The wireless stations were fired on last night and lively exchanges of shots were audible on the outskirts at nightfall. The entire zone is consequently in a virtual state of seige.

PERIL OF BULLETS

No one stirs abroad without realizing the peril of bullets speeding from darkness. Primo Rivera's task is one of eternal vigilance to keep a few roads open.

The narrow guage railway from ceutat to Tetuan is guarded by posts, established every few hundred yards on both sides of the track for the entire length of the road. The Tangiers-Tetuan road also is guarded.

The military commanders agree that it will be an excellent military feat to extricate 40,000 men from such territory with small losses. From Ben Karrieh to Teutan the going will be somewhat easier as the valley is wider and the road is in better condition.

AMERICA FAVORS LEAGUE PLAN

U. S. Willing to Sit in International Law Conference

WASHINGTON — An American judge backed by the moral support of the United States government will sit with 10 other international jurist to be chosen by the league of nations council to codify international law. Enthusiastic approval of the league plan, which carried out repeated suggestioins of President Coolidge and Secretary Hughes, was expressed by administration spokesmen today.

Participation in this league activity will be in line with this government's cooperation in the league's anti-narcotic conference and other humanitarian activities.

In accepting the expected invitation from the league, his government, however, will point out again that it does not hereby undertake any league of nations commitments.

"It's a long road and a difficult one," said a cabinet officer today, commenting on the necessity for beginning codification of international law as an aid to peace. "It will be easier for the expert jurists to reach agreement among themselves, than for their various governments to ratify the code they produce."

The only way the United States can become party to such an agreement, it was pointed out in this connection, is thru the accustomed medium of treaties ratified by the senate.

Senate support as well as that of the executive branch of the government is believed assured, however, for any established code of world law.

The method employed by the league council in initiating its plan thru the appointment of jurists, rather than by a political conference of the powers, follows the suggestion embodied in Pres. Coolidge's message to congress last week.

SPECIAL LEVIES TABULATED

Street Lighting and Cleaning Costs are Estimated

SLIDING SCALE APPROVED

Payments Must Be Made During December

City assessments aggregating $52,70[illegible] for "white way" lighting, street cleaning and arc lighting are to be collected in the December collection at city hall by the city treasurer.

Collection of white way' or boulevard light assessments starts Thursday morning and ends in 30 days, the period allowed before delinquents are certified to the county auditor with a 10 per cent penalty attached.

Boulevard lighting assessments are prorated at [illegible] cents a front foot on 11 streets lighted by "bright lights" and reaches a total of $1[illegible] for 1[illegible].

In figures compiled at city hall the assessments on the following streets lighted by both arc lights are given:

ASSESSMENTS

Central av., Elm st. to [illegible], railway, $7[illegible]; Elm st., [illegible] to Wayne st., $5819; Elm st., West st. to Central av., $1229; High st., Central av. to West st., $1[illegible]; Main st., Grand av. to [illegible] railway, $10,112; Market st., [illegible] railway to Glenwood av., $[illegible]; [illegible] st., Central av. to [illegible], $1[illegible]; Spring st., Central av. to West st., $1,[illegible]; Union st., Wayne st. to Elm st., $71.41; Wayne st., West st. to Central av., $361.21; West st., Elm st. to Wayne st., $68.60.

Front foot assessments for arc lighting is incomplete as several streets are yet to be included in the December assessment which is to amount to $21,88[illegible] according to figures tabulated in the city engineer's office.

Sliding scale of from 2.5 cents to 8 cents for front foot for street cleaning, covering the collection for street cleaning on all improved streets in the city. The total assessment will amount to approximately $16,608.

The street cleaning assessment rate is based on the amount of work on each street. In the business section, where the streets were frequently cleaned the rate is 8 cents per front foot and on outlying streets the rate is 2.5 cents per front foot.

DOG "FUR" COAT SELLERS QUIT

Trio Leave City Rather Than Stand Trial Here

Three New York City youths were released here Tuesday afternoon when they agreed to quit selling "dog fur" coats represented as being of genuine skunk fur variety.

The youths, Sidney Blond, Charles Buckler and Joseph Rosenbaum, were apprehended late Tuesday by Chief of Police [illegible] Lanker and James E. Morton, manager of the Lima Board of Commerce, after they had attempted to sell their wares, which they admitted only cost $4 a coat at $10 or above that price.

The youths had a license issued by George A. Kraft, Lucas co. auditor. Morton intends writing either Kraft or some county official and ask him why such a license was issued without giving the coats a thoro examination.

STREET CAR EMPLOYES SUE CO. FOR DAMAGES

DAYTON, O.—Suit of Leslie B. Abshire, against the City Railway Co., growing out of the street car strike in 1920 is under way in common pleas court today. Abshire and 50 others are suing for $5,000 each, claiming they were damaged when the company rejected an arbitration agreement and cut the wages with the understanding the men could quit.

The plaintiffs contend that the agreement of arbitration is a fundamental condition of their contract with the company. The company contends it had a right to withdraw from the agreement and that the men themselves resigned.

Damages aggregating a total of $250,000 are involved in the action.

EDUCATOR NAMED

COLUMBUS—Frank P. Geiger, superintendent of the East Liverpool school, today was appointed by Gov. Donahey a member of the committee which is to study school finances to take the place of Superintendent Wilson Hawkins of Canton who informed the governor that he could not give because of pressing duties there in connection with the large building program under contemplation. He said it would not be fair to the city of Canton or to the governor to accept membership on the committee as he would necessarily be unable to devote his time to either cause.

LETTER AUTHENTIC

LONDON — Prime Minister Baldwin stated in the house of commons today that the sub-committee of the cabinet after examining all the evidence put before it had come to the unanimous conclusion that there was no doubt the Zinovieff propaganda letter was authentic.

ALLEGED ORGIES ARE PROBED

Federal Grand Jury Summons Toledo School Boys

TOLEDO, [illegible] — Forty-two boys, all students or former students at [illegible] Scott high school, were subpoenaed Wednesday to appear before the federal grand jury tomorrow morning.

The boys, it was announced, from the leading families of Toledo, were called as the result of a federal investigation of the Thanksgiving dance held in honor of the football players of [illegible] high. Reports of heavy drinking and prevalent drunkenness among the school boys and girls attending the dance were made to federal authorities from many sources, it was announced today.

An inquiry into other dances held by high school students this fall may be made, the district attorney pointed out.

It is entirely probable that more than a score of indictments will be returned against bootleggers and other offenders. Assistant District Attorney George Reed said.

Reed will be in charge of the grand jury during the investigation.

Complaint after complaint has been made to me of the unspeakable conditions at this Thanksgiving dance, Reed said today. Mothers and fathers came to me with tears in their eyes and asked that I do something to clean up a situation which has become intolerable. I dislike the idea of destroying the morale of a school but something had to be done."

The boys will be given an opportunity to testify before the grand jury as to where they obtained the liquor which they took to the dance. If they come clean they will be granted the immunity provided by federal law for a grand jury witness. A refusal to testify fully and completely may lead to an indictment against the boy himself, it was announced.

CHARGE COUNTY DADS OVERBOUGHT SUPPLIES

CLEVELAND — Following an investigation of county commissioners methods of purchasing supplies for the county, prompted by John H. Harris, incoming commissioner, County Prosecutor Edward C. Stanton announces that thirty three out of thirty six requisitions for county supplies issued by the storekeepers since Sept. 1 have been arbitrarily increased one hundred per cent.

They've got enough eraser on hand to last ten years, enough ink for two years, enough rubber bands for five years, enough scratch pads for ten years and an unnecessarily large quantity of almost everything," declared Harris.

ARMS PARLEY LOOMS FOR EARLY NEXT YEAR

ROME (By United Press) — Receipt of word from Washington that the American government will accept an invitation to a conference to consider restriction of traffic in arms today gave new impetus to deliberations of the League of Nations council.

A message from Secretary of State Hughes completely offset the general report that it had been found necessary at Great Britain's request to agree to postponement of a proposed disarmament parley originally scheduled for next June.

The council set May 1, 1925, as a date for the arms traffic conference which probably will be the most important development of next year towards establishment of permanent peace. It also decided to have a committee meeting February 6 next to prepare for the parley.

NAVAL MATTER UP

WASHINGTON — In answer to the plea of Secy. of the Navy Wilbur for modernization of the American fleet, Chairman Hale of the senate naval affairs committee announced today he would move to take up the reconditioning bill in the senate tomorrow. The new bill provides expenditure of $111,000,000 to build eight light cruisers, convert six battleships to oil burners and create [illegible] new [illegible] boats.

COUSIN KILLED

Chief of Police [illegible] A. Lanker received word today of the death of his cousin, Mrs. [illegible] Lanker, [illegible] school teacher of Hamilton. Mrs. Lanker was instantly killed early Tuesday morning when a B. & O. train struck her automobile at Laurel av. crossing while she was on her way to [illegible] school of which she was principal.

MANY MAKE USE OF LIBRARY

Records Reveal Details of Local Institution

Fifty different trades and six professions were represented among the 628 borrowers of books at the Lima Public Library during the month of November, according to Miss Georgie McAfee, chief librarian.

These 628 borrowers read 7,536 books, according to the circulation records. Many of the borrowers were students, while 18 city and county clubs took out books for reference work in conjunction with club discussions.

Largest gain during the month was in children's books. This was because of the emphasis laid on Children's Book Week during the period from Nov. 9 to 16.

Features of the month in Lima library work were the opening of the South high school branch on Friday, Nov. 21, and Children's Book Week.

More than 1,100 people used the reading room during November, the monthly report shows. Twenty-two book exhibits were held, 15 of which were in the library and seven in business houses display windows. More than 500 children heard stories told by Miss McAfee.

At the present time there are [illegible] volumes in the library. This number is being added to constantly.

Board of trustees of the library, [illegible] evening approved [illegible] order for $437 worth of [illegible]. The order has been sent to the publishers and the book will arrive within a few weeks.

A library committee composed of [illegible], Mrs. Kent Hughes and Mrs. McAfee will meet with [illegible], South high principal, [illegible] Miss Jessie Crowther, South high librarian at 4 p. m. Wednesday at the library to discuss the formal opening of the South branch. It is likely the committee will decide to open the branch before the first of the year. The library branch opening program will be held in the new auditorium which is immediately to the west of the library room.

NO INQUIRY IN INCE DEATH

Officials Refuse Probe in Film Director's Demise

SAN DIEGO, Calif.—(By Associated Press)—There will be no official investigation into the death of Thomas H. Ince, motion picture producer, at least as far as San Diego officials are concerned, District Attorney C. C. Kempley declared in a statement today.

I am satisfied that the death of Thomas H. Ince was caused by heart failure as the result of an attack of acute indigestion," he said. "There will be no investigation into the death of Ince, at least as far as San Diego is concerned. As there is every reason to believe that the death of Ince was due to natural causes there is no reason why an investigation should be made."

Kempley's statement followed an interview held yesterday with Dr. T. A. Parker of La Jolla, who was called to attend Ince when the latter was taken off a train at Del Mar and Miss Jessie Howard, a nurse who was also called into the case. Dr. Parker, according to Kempley, stated that Ince told him that he had drunk considerable liquor aboard the yacht Oneida on which he went from Los Angeles to San Diego. Miss Howard, it is said, also stated that Ince had said he had drunk considerable liquor while a member of the Oneida party. Miss Howard is also reported to have stated that Ince declared his illness was due to bad liquor he had aboard the yacht. No inquiry into the source of the liquor said to have been on board will be made by San Diego.

"If there is any liquor investigation it will have to be made in Los Angeles where presumably the liquor was secured," Kempley said.

BALDWIN HAS MAJORITY

LONDON — The Baldwin government won today on the first division in the new house of commons, the vote being 277 to 81. A member of the opposition raised objection to the prime minister's motion giving precedence to government business, and the test vote showed a conservative majority of 196.

FIGHT WAGED TO SAVE YOUTH FROM CHAIR

COLUMBUS — Gov. Donahey today agreed to hear further testimony as to the mental condition of Alexander Kuczik, 19, before refusing definitely to commute his sentence of execution in the electric chair for the murder of his 13-year-old cousin, Elizabeth Nagy, to life imprisonment.

Kuczik's execution is due tomorrow night, the state supreme court yesterday denying the appeal of his attorneys who argued the boy is a moron and was not responsible for his actions at the time of the slaying.

STUDENTS ARE FREE

CANTON, China—Twenty-two of the students captured Saturday by bandits while enroute from Canton to the Christian college in a launch were returned to the college today. The bandits have been routed by Gen. Li Fuh-Lin's troops after a short fight. The rescuers found two other of the students this morning. Eight still remain in captivity.

Miss Ruth Seymour, general secretary of the Y. W. C. A., announces the meeting of the Bible class at 5:30 p. m. Wednesday. The "Sixth Commandment" will be taken up with Rev. Gysan of the First Congregational Church as director.

At 4 p. m. the Central Blue Triangle club will have its regular meeting with songs stunts and contests on the program. This will be at the Y. W. C. A. building with Miss Laurel Erdman in charge.

The telephone girls will bowl at the Y. M. C. A. at 5:30 p. m. and at 6:15 the Wohelo club will have a supper and Christmas party. At 7 p. m. Wednesday, the basketry and Christmas gift classes will meet. The time will be devoted to the making of lamps and candy.

AMBULANCE CHASERS TO COME UNDER BAN

CLEVELAND — Several proposed laws designed to speed up justice and for the general betterment of courts will be discussed here Jan. 22 to 24, at the annual convention of the Ohio State Bar association.

More than 1,000 of the leading lawyers and judges of the state are expected to attend. The Ohio Judges' association, the Municipal Judges' association, the Probate Judges' and County Prosecutors' associations have been invited to attend the sessions.

Chief among the proposed acts is a law to curb the activities of "ambulance chasers," known in the legal profession as lawyers or agents of lawyers who are on hand soon after accidents to solicit law business and who sign up interested persons to a contract authorizing them to bring suit.

SOUTH'S LYCEUM IS SUCCESS

Sidney Landon, Impersonator, Plays to Large Audience

An audience of South high school students and Lima citizens filled Central High auditorium Tuesday evening for the performance of Sidney Landon, well-known impersonator, in "Great Literary Men."

Landon impersonated Mark Twain, Victor Hugo, Henry W. Longfellow, Bill Nye, Edgar Allen Poe and James Whitcomb Riley. He gave readings from some of their works.

Landon's impersonation of Poe was exceptionally vivid. Once when a lecturer succeeding him in a southern city inquired of the opera house manager regarding previous numbers on the lyceum course. "Well, I don't just recollect all the rest of the folks that have been here," he replied, "but I think the last one was Edgar Allen Poe."

South's next lyceum number will be given in the new school auditorium Tuesday evening, Jan. 13. The number will be "L'Ombra," a play in which a New York company will appear. It is said this production will be as costly as all the other numbers on the program put together. The same production will be given the evening before on the Central High school lyceum course at Central auditorium.

Landon will appear again Wednesday evening on the Central High school course, beginning at 8:00.

S. PREPARING FOR WAR

aker Says Military Program Under Way

LLS UPON CHURCHES

aries Lack of Action on World Court

ATLANTA — (By Associated ss)—"Recent events strongly indicate that America is preparing for the next war and that smoke screen of preparedness is being used to lull the people into acquiescence in the most massive military program this country has ever adopted."

Gov. William E. Sweet, of Colorado, made this statement in an address on "Christianizing Our International Relations" at last night's session of the Fourth Quadrennial Meeting of the Federal Council of Churches. The churches, he declared, are indignant at the attitude of Congress concerning America's relations to international peace. He criticized the recent "mobilization" as being designed to fix the principles of Woodrow Wilson declared that the responsibility for continuing the crusade a warless world rests upon churches.

ICE IS URGENT

The most urgent question before the nation of the world today the establishment of universal e," he said. "It is urgent only because war is wrong because nations are rapidly etting the horrors of the old war. With the return of mal conditions in Europe, the ions will revert to the ancient that war is an entirely legitimate method of settling international disputes and not to be rded with abhorrence. This point is becoming increasingly prevalent in the United es. Recent events strongly cate that America is preparing for the next war and that the screen of preparedness is g used to lull the people into acquiescence in the most extensive military program this nation has ever adopted."

At the recent meeting of the ue of Nations the most farreaching step which has ever taken against war was ted. The nations 'solemnly ared that aggressive war was international crime.' They ally undertook not to be y of its commission."

It is a matter of profound regret to many that the United es, not being a member of the ue of Nations, had no part he discussion of the protocol. political party which had rolled Congress during the four years determined that debate on the question of our ence to the World Court d be permitted. Every act e League is now discussed from the standpoint of an ler and not as a member. criticism of the recent protocol is likely to be hypercritical hostile, instead of constructive and helpful. A durable peace can upon the outlawry of present, nations sanction he rules of warfare are upon and then promptly when war is waged. War is now as much a matter of international agreement as international trade.

"The movement to outlaw war is comparable to the abolition of slavery and to the prohibition of the liquor traffic in its appeal to the Christian conscience. Christianity is opposed to compromising with wrong, therefore the churches should unitely advocate the outlawry of war as being the only method by which war can be abolished.

PART OF CHURCH

"When once aroused, no agency can mould public opinion so forcibly as the church. The church helped mightily to abolish slavery. It helped mightily to achieve national prohibition.

"Once the church thinks straight and unitedly on a moral issue there is a dynamic power in it which cannot be over estimated.

"The Christian passion for justice demands that no injustice be done by any people. The Christian passion for justice demands that a stronger nation shall not subject a weaker one to humiliation or loss of national sovereignty because, forsooth, it has the power to do so. No solution of the problem of war is adequate which does not fully recognize national obligations as well as national rights.

"The ideal for which Woodrow Wilson gave his life can not die. A lover of peace, he hated war. Mindful of the human cost of war, he waged it with all his might that the peace wrought might end war. Let no man say that his purpose has failed.

"With unerring judgment Woodrow Wilson sought to direct the attention of the world to the spirit of Christ as the only power capable of redeeming civilization. The nations must learn the futility of force and the power of love. Upon the church rests the solemn responsibility of leading a crusade for a warless world to the end that peace and good will may everywhere abound. Surely this is the true mission of the church of the living Christ."

NOT WANTED

So Jimmie Was Put in Box Car and Deserted

JIMMIE MILLNER

MEMPHIS, Tenn.—(Special)—Three-year-old Jimmie Millner's stepmother did not want him.

She told her husband, Walker Millner of Colliersville, Tenn., he had to choose between Jimmie and her. And Millner did.

He brought little Jimmie to Memphis and took him down to the railroad yards and put him in a box car. Switchmen found him there.

The father is in jail, charged with abandonment. Mrs. Millner was arrested, too, but released when it was found she could not be prosecuted under the Tennessee statutes.

"They can keep me in jail until it rots," she told deputy sheriffs who went after her. "But I'm not going to let that brat come back to my house.

"Why, just the other day the thing laid out on the wood pile and yelled all day long! I'm not going to be bothered with no such thing as that."

And Millner insists he is going back to her as soon as he "gets out of this."

Meanwhile little Jimmie has found a home in General Hospital. There he awaits adoption by some other family.

Officials at an orphanage remembered the child had been left with them for a while last summer. They recalled him easily by the fact he had only one eye. The other one was removed in an operation a year ago.

Ten of the twenty cities showed an increase in prices ranging up to three per cent during the year ending Nov. 15.

END RHEUMATIC PAIN WITH NEW POWDER FROM ITALY

Shake It In Your Shoes. No Medicine to Take

Allessandro Volta, the well-known Italian physicist for whom the electric volt was named, has discovered a powder that drives out the agonizing pain of rheumatism. To thousands of sufferers in this country it has already brought relief from pain so quickly that it seems miraculous.

This amazing discovery is in the form of a fine powder which, when shaken into the shoes, seems to be absorbed immediately into the blood stream through the myriad pores of the feet. This is due, no doubt, to the fact that in the feet there are 10 times as many pores to the square inch as in any other part of the body. And, intended to act at once on the Uric Acid which causes rheumatic pain, Volta powder brings speedy relief in even the worst, most painful cases.

The use of Volta powder has demonstrated such astonishing results in literally thousands of cases, many of which were considered hopeless, that the American distributors have authorized local druggists to dispense Volta to rheumatic sufferers in their city with an unqualified guarantee to return the full purchase price on the first box in any rare case where the rheumatic pains are not wonderfully relieved.

All who suffer from rheumatic pains, no matter how long-standing their case may be, should take immediate advantage of this liberal offer. You can get Volta powder with this guarantee from Argonne Drug Store, Baldwin's, Central Drug Store, Enterprise Drug Store, Green's Public Drug Store, Hunter's Drug Stores, Raymond R. Horn, Interurban Drug Store, Marmon Bros. Drug Store, Mykrantz Drug Store, Vortkamp's Drug Store, Keltner's Drug Store. adv

VEGETABLES CAN BE STORED

Direction for Care Given by H. J. Ridge

Vegetables may be kept in good condition in winter storage by observing the requirements of the different sorts, says H. J. Ridge, Allen-co farm agent.

Most homes have a cool room or cellar which is suitable for canned fruits, root crops, onions and potatoes. The onions may be hung from the ceiling in slatted crates. Carrots, beets, parsnips and turnips should be covered with moist soil or sand and may be kept in boxes or baskets. Cabbage hung from the ceiling will keep for a time in this cool room.

Celery, brussels sprouts and endive can be kept in a cool room for some time by lifting the plants with the roots on and packing the roots in moist soil in boxes. The tops should not be wet in watering the roots, Ridge says.

To prevent rapid drying out and withering of vegetables provide a large shallow pan of water or sprinkle the floor frequently, the county agent advises. Sweet potatoes, squash and pumpkins may be placed on shelves or benches in a furnace room or warm closet, as they keep best where it is warm and dry.

CODE REVISION IS URGED

Bingham Asks that Building Law Be Passed

INSPECTION NECESSARY

Time Ripe to Consider Measure, Manager Says

Lima is one of the few cities of 50,000 or more population in the state that is operating without a building code, and one of the few smaller cities that has a zoning ordinance in operation.

City Manager C. A. Bingham in his campaign for revision of the building code that was presented here months ago and tabled by city commission, advocated the elimination of certain sections which may work hardships on builders and eradicate the prohibitive trend by making the proposed measure broad enough to allow sufficient leeway but at the same time carry out a safety clause in building.

Investigation of building in Lima as conducted by City Manager C. A. Bingham indicates that diversified methods are in force here without the supervision of a building inspector to direct the removal of fire hazards and correction of violations of the state building code.

BAD WIRING

Structures have been found where electrical wiring is unprotected and in some instances the wire is strung along on nails or placed thru walls without being encased or so arranged to eliminate hazards of fire as specified by the national and state building codes. In other buildings below window ledges small pieces of lathing have been placed with a thin coating of plaster holding them in place. This one condition was found in a stucco house where the stucco was intended to hide the defective construction.

Building permits have been issued in the city, according to Manager Bingham, on the valuation presented by the builder without city officials being apprised of the type of construction. Many of the builders have constructed dwelling of unquestionable construction while others have thrown together buildings that would never have been allowed were there a building code enforced.

When the proposed building code was presented last year a number of minor changes were made and the legislation tabled pending further consideration. Since then Manager Bingham has been appointed temporary building inspector as the result of warning received from the state department of industrial relations on the failure of cities to pass on all plans and specifications regarding building.

Manager Bingham believes the time is ripe to again review the old legislation. He suggests that certain sections be eliminated and other sections added to make the measure one that will be welcomed by builders and tend to eliminate conditions that have been discovered here in the past several years.

WIFE SEEKING DIVORCE FROM HUSBAND IN JAIL

An echo of non-support proceedings in common pleas court which resulted in conviction of William B. Evans, former Niles resident, was sounded Wednesday when Mrs. Mary Evans, instituted action for divorce.

Evans is now serving a three year sentence for non-support in Ohio state penitentiary. He was brought from Niles to Lima two months ago on an old indictment, charging him with failure to support his wife and three children. The children are Paul, 19; William, 15; and Ethel, 13.

Evans is alleged to be the owner of a house and lot in Niles valued at $4,000, and 89 acres of land in Trumbull-co worth $2,622.

Divorce, alimony and custody of the children are sought by the wife.

STATE OVERRUN

Unusual Number of Vendors Reported at Work

COLUMBUS—There has been an unusual increase this year in the number of house to house salesmen in Ohio offering Christmas merchandise, it was declared today by George V. Sheridan, director of the Ohio Council of Retail Merchants. "Ohio is being overrun this month by an unprecedented number of peddlers and itinerant vendors selling almost every conceivable form of holiday merchandise thru house to house solicitation,' he said.

"Many of these are only temporarily employed and are resorting to any means to move their merchandise rapidly."

The reasons for the influx, according to Sheridan, are the attraction to the field of many "shoestring" operators by the reports of huge profits of the legitimate concerns engaged in direct selling; the backward retail season which left many eastern merchandise manufacturers with big stocks on their hands, available to any one with the enterprise to organize selling crews; the enactment of laws against itinerant merchants by other states, and the that that many people are still out of work and have turned to this method to make a living.

CHRISTMAS HITS MAIL MAN

Early Mailing Campaign is Help, However

The holiday rush of Christmas mailing is on at Lima postoffice with the volume of business showing a slight increase daily as the period before Christmas grows shorter.

Postmaster A. E. Gale, announced Tuesday that the "mail early" campaign instituted by postal authorities is bearing fruit. The big rush opened Monday and Tuesday a greater volume of business was seen, practically all of the packages being marked "Don't open until Christmas."

"Mail early," the slogan adopted by postoffices toward elimination of the eleventh hour rush, is being stressed by Postmaster Gale so that all packages can be delivered before the holiday and prevent the congestion that has been apparent here in past years when every one waited until several days before Christmas to mail their presents.

WRANGEL FLEET PROBLEM

Soviet Will Demand Release of Ships

GIVE RUSSIA CONTROL

Trouble in Balkans is Likely Result

PARIS—(By United Press)—A fleet without a flag, lying in the Port of Bizerte, in the northeast corner of Africa, may soon weigh anchor as a negligible naval factor and steam into international relations, ruffling the smooth waters of European peace, it is the Wrangel flotilla, which took refuge in a southern French port at the time of the Wrangel debacle before the victorious Soviet legions.

The arrival of the fleet caused France considerable annoyance, and has been a heavy expense ever since. When Wrangel's men were driven to the sea, they boarded the boats they had appropriated from the estate of old Russia and headed for friendly havens. France had been very sympathetic with the Wrangel cause, so when the troops arrived here they felt quite at home and many landed and remained. Then France was faced with the problem of the alien navy, which she solved by arranging to have the crews remain aboard and take care of the ships and armament.

RECOGNIZES SOVIET

But now France has recognized the Russian Soviet state, which claims authority over everything that belonged to old Russia. This claim naturally includes the navy, and it is expected here that the Soviets, in adjusting differences between the two countries, will demand that the ships be turned over to them. They will probably also refuse to reimburse France for what the navy has cost her, and they may even refuse to extend amnesty to the faithful crews. Under such circumstances, can France in honor surrender the ships

Other nations are vitally concerned. If Russia gets the fleet she will have the supremacy of the Black Sea, and also the Eastern Mediterranean. The Greek navy is very feeble, and the Turks have practically no navy at all, so they naturally view with alarm the idea of Russia getting these boats again. Rumania and Bulgaria are very interested, each thinking of their own interests and each jealous of the probable naval strength of the Bolsheviks. The situation is such that old-time diplomats are recalling the famous line of Kipling, "There will be trouble the Balkans in the spring."

FORMIDABLE SHIP

The fleet includes two cruisers, one of which, the General Alexeief launched in 1914, is of 23,000 tons and has some very effective armament. This vessel would be a formidable man-of-war in any Russian water. The other cruiser, the General Kornilof, has a displacement of 6,575 tons, and is over twenty years old. The auxiliary cruiser I'Almaz displaces 3,300 tons.

There are seven destroyers, six of which are comparatively modern, altho they are small. They were laid down just before the war. The fleet includes three small torpedo boats and four fairly modern submarines, two launched in 1916 and one in 1918, two gunboats launched in 1916 of 1,100 tons each and several lesser craft, also a supply ship which the French have improved and renamed the Vulcain.

On the whole it is quite a useful fleet, and the Russians are certain to have much to say about it, and every word they say will be reechoed over the Balkans.

AUTO TRADE ASSOCIATION IN ANNUAL SESSION

COLUMBUS — The Ohio Automobile Trade Association went into annual convention here today with approximately 1,000 dealers in attendance. Gov. Vic Donahey, on behalf of the state, welcomed the delegates, while Mayor Thomas delivered the address of welcome for the city.

Various tax measures and proposals for equalizing the cost of construction and maintenance of highways were among the subjects to be discussed.

ASKS SANTA FOR BABE

DAYTON—A letter from a good Dayton home, reached the welfare department of the city today. The writer asked that a real live kicking boy of four months be left at her home on Christmas eve by Santa Claus. The welfare department is doing its best to fill the unusual order.

Rita Weiman, author and playwright, wrote an article for a magazine in which she declared she'd never marry. But she was only a woman. Here she is with her Thanksgiving bridegroom, Maurice Marks, advertising man.

CINCINNATI MAN IS FAVORITE

Gardner Favored for Ohio Senate Leadership

COLUMBUS—(United Press)—Senator Joseph R. Gardner, Cincinnati, will be elected president pro tem and majority floor leader of the new Ohio senate, probably without opposition, when the 33 newly elected Republican senators hold their caucus here this afternoon.

There is no other candidate in the field against Gardner and opinion among the senators on hand early for the meeting was that no serious opposition could develop.

Joseph E. Cross, Columbus, is slated for re-election as senate clerk, and T. E. Bateman, Piketon, apparently will be re-elected assistant clerk. With a dozen candidates out for the job as sergeant at arms, the winner is very much in doubt. Dr. Morton W. Bland, Columbus, appeared to be the strongest contender for chairmanship of the most important committee, finance, altho he has two opponents, Senators W. R. Price of Summit-co and C. F. Wise of Stark-co.

MILLION DRUG USERS

DETROIT, Mich. — (By United Press) — More than 1,000,000 people in the United States are victims of the drug habit. The average age of the heroin addict is 22 years. America consumes four times as much "dope" as all Europe combined. These startling facts were pointed out by A. W. Frye, supreme commander of the Maccabees in an address here.

DAYTON IS CHOSEN

DAYTON, O. — Directors of the Central Ohio Teachers' association have selected Dayton as the convention city for 1925. The teachers will be here Nov. 6 and 7.

Sure Way To Get Rid Of Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely, and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon, apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail. adv

U. S. NAVY MUST BUILD

Sec. Wilbur Points to Needs on Sea

WOULD MAINTAIN RATIO

Battleships Still Real Measure of Power

WASHINGTON — (By Associated Press) —Cruiser for cruiser and submarine for submarine, the United States must build in competition with Great Britain on a five to three ratio of superiority over Japan if the Washington treaty ratio of naval strength is to be maintained, Sec. Wilbur has informed the house subcommittee on naval appropriations.

BUILD CRUISERS

The secretary submitted a rounded building program advocated by the general board, details of which have not been revealed, but which includes light cruisers of the 10,000-ton type, fleet submarines, destroyer leaders and other auxiliary craft, tonnage in which is not limited by the treaty.

Since the statement, laid before the committee Monday in executive session and made public last night, was reviewed and revised repeatedly by the general board and other experts of the navy department before it was delivered by Wilbur, it may be taken as the deliberate conclusion of the naval service not only on the present status of the navy compared to other fleets, but as to relative value of aircraft and submarines compared with battleships.

Battleships are still the "real measure of sea power" the secretary told the committee. But to have full value, he added, they "must be prepared to resist every possible means of assault, including the submarine torpedo and the aerial bomb."

REPAIRS NEEDED

Great stress was laid by the secretary on the navy's modernization program, altho he deferred for future discussion the gun elevation aspect of that work.

The greatest deficiency in treaty ratio strength now existing in the fleet, he said, was the deterioration of the boilers of six older ships which must be reboilered to take their proper place in the line. It was this condition which preempted the department's notification to congress last May that the ratio strength had fallen from 5-5-3 to 5-4-3, he said.

POSTOFFICE UP TO COOLIDGE

New Building for Lima Rests With President

Lima's chances for a new postoffice rest with President Coolidge.

This statement, made late Tuesday afternoon, came from Congressman John L. Cable who, being interested in a new government building here, has followed closely the workings of congress in that respect.

If Coolidge favors the Elliott bill, introduced in the house of representatives last Saturday, providing for the appropriation of $158,000,000 for the erection and improvement of government buildings, chances for a new postoffice building here will be bettered.

Should Coolidge favor the bill, the secretary of the treasury will undoubtedly advocate the erection of postoffice buildings, as he and Elliott, the drafter of the new bill, favored the terms set forth in it a year ago.

The Lima News

AND TIMES-DEMOCRAT

Published every afternoon except Sunday in The Lima News Building, 121 E. High-st, Lima, Ohio. Entered at the Lima, O. postoffice as second class mail matter.

EARL R. LEACH, Managing Editor. By Mail one year, $6.00. City Carrier, 15c a week.

A Wonderful Year

Lima has had the greatest paving and public improvement year in its history. No one can realize the wonderful improvements that have been accomplished unless a survey of the city is made.

In every direction fine, new streets spread, opening up new territory that is being built up and becoming a part of this fast expanding city. Sewers have been laid under all this paving to provide for the future and those responsible for the accomplishment of the work and the class of work done are to be complimented. Streets have been paved with a view to the future, materials that will last being used and laid in a manner that will give property owners the most for their money.

City hall is responsible for the forward policy of the last year. Much more will be done next year and by the end of that peiod our paving and sewer problems will be pretty well out of the way for the present. Then will come the only disagreeable factor—paying for them. But we shall not mind that for every piece of work has enhanced the value of abutting and surrounding property out of all proportion to the cost of the improvements.

It is worth one's time to drive entirely over the city, see the work that has been done by the city, the great amount of new building that has just been completed and is still under way. It gives one a good idea of the confidence folk have in their city and should be an incentive to everyone to chip in with a little more co-operation to keep things going ahead.

Grade Crossings

Few subjects of community interest are discussed with so much regularity as that of the grade crossings, says the Dayton News. This is due to the fact that in an age so modern and efficient in every respect, it remains one of the relics of a rather compromising past that railroad grade crossings within the limits of a city of average importance, are tolerated.

We have known all about the menacing features of this subject for a good many years. Few cities there are, so handicapped, but have reflected, officially and otherwise, upon the necessity for eliminating such crossings. But time has sped on, discussion was dropped, and when it was renewed a survey showed that it would require additional millions to do the work, over what would have been necessary several years before.

Railroad grade crossings constitute an economic waste. View the subject from any standpoint you care to and you are obliged to arrive at the same conclusion. Waste is that condition from which not only no value is derived, but as a result of which outlay is necessary without any returns, adequate or otherwise.

The grade crossing is a challenge to the progressiveness of American municipalities which pride themselves upon their civic spirit. Increasing traffic has served to emphasize how greatly these crossings have proved a nuisance and a menace, besides being an economic waste.

Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce, is approaching the subject by naming a committee of investigators which will report at a meeting in Washington, December 15 to 17. Not much more needs to be learned about the subject. The evil is thoroughly understood. The elimination of dangerous crossings can be brought about, but only in one way, by their being supplanted by methods which carry railroad transportation overhead, underground, or around the city's densely populated business district. Of course that means an expenditure of money, but if measured in dollars and cents alongside the actual loss sustained by business held up in the course of a year's time, the expense of correcting this evil would be as nothing compared with the benefits and security which would be derived to city and citizens by the adoption of elimination measures.

The Diving Board

The most interesting phase of becoming successful after years of effort, is that we don't last long as a rule after we get there.

A man climbs to the top of the ladder. He hardly gets his breath before he finds himself falling thru space. The fellow on the rung below, who has been following him, has shoved him from his place.

Success has been described as a ladder. It is. The ladder leads to a diving board from which plunges a steady stream of "successes."

A few men stay at the top so long that they become chronic national characters. But usually a man is thru after 10 years or less at the top.

Maybe he keeps "the name." But, chances are, he's more or less of a figurehead. A newcomer is doing the real work—exerting the real power and authority.

Compared with the number of years it takes to climb the ladder, the average success remains at the top just long enough to examine the scenery and discover what's happened to him. There are, of course, exceptions. But exceptions prove the rule.

Have you noticed that, while men seem to rise to success faster than they used to, they also tend to slip sooner? Here's a man in his late thirties. He has a big income. Comes a period of depression. He's out of a job, probably broke. Maybe he comes back, maybe not.

Average ability is increasing. So each year it becomes more difficult to win out against competition—also more difficult to keep a position of success after we get it.

Twenty years ago, writers of good fiction were scarce. Now there are schools turning out writers in hordes. Writing itself has been analyzed and systematized so that it is merely high-class "carpenter work." Fortunately for writers their sales market has widened as fast as the nicrease in competent followers of this profession.

So it goes in nearly every line. The "stars" have their understudies, quite as capable as themselves. Psychologists and systematizers have "taken the works apart" and laid bare all secrets.

That's why it's harder to stay at the top than it used to be. Average ability has risen. Where there used to be only one available man to handle a big job, now there's a mob.

o o o

One overlooked blessing of those who get out for Sunday school is the trip makes them hungry for Sunday dinner.

South Africa's diamond output is over two million karats yearly. But that isn't so much. We mine more coal than that.

LIMA NEWS HEALTH SERVICE

By DR. WILLIAM BRADY

EXERCISE AND ENLARGED VEINS

From what I have said in recent talks about the relation of slouchy posture and the lack of physical training to varicose veins in general and piles in particular, it must be evident that exercise may be of some value in the prevention and cure of a varicose condition of the veins in any situation. Altho proper exercise has such value, individuals afflicted with any such varicosity should remember that rest is often the more important need for the time being. There are several acute contingencies or "complications" of this state of enlargement of the veins either in the legs or in the pelvis which imperatively demand absolute rest. On the other hand, in the majority of cases in the intervals of "attacks" a proper regimen of general exercise is the better policy.

Persons subject to varicose veins in the legs are usually afflicted with a complication of Billings complaint. They know that an important cause is "being on the feet too much." Here I pause and briefly run over all I have said in the preceding talks about piles, especially the allusions to the valveless condition of the veins affected, the sedentary habit of the race, the evolutionary congestion incident to man's upright posture, and all sort of thing, and I wonder whether I may have contributed thereby to the misapprehension about "being too much on the feet." But if you remember, I held up a tame rabbit, which succumbed in 12 hours, and then a wild one which endured the vertical posture for three days. The wild rabbit is ordinarily as much on his feet as the tame one. Now what is wrong here? Why, I have already given the diagnosis—Billings complaint. You see, so few of us study physiology.

Here is a switch wide open, and we've got to take it. Why shouldn't every child be taught the rudiments of human anatomy and human physiology along with reading, geography and Cicero. How come this strange determination of "educated" people to remain in childish ignorance of themselves? What is the basis for the exaggerated contempt which our pseudo-intellectuals profess to feel for anything that pertains to "innards?" Why do the educational authorities offer so much active and passive resistance to the establishment of physical education in the schools? I don't know the answers to these questions.

The whole problem is a dark mystery to me. I can't conceive why man is not the proper study of mankind. There is no subject taught in elementary or high school that would be of greater value, intellectually and practically, than a reasonable outline of human anatomy and a faithful presentation of physiology co-ordinated with it. If the school requirements in the subject of mathematics, for instance, were as easy or as indefinite as they are in the subject of "physiology and hygiene," pupils could have daily crossword puzzle contests and a good time generally instead of bothering their heads with abstruse algebra examples. The so called "physiology and hygiene" which is now taught in the elementary and high schools of the country is a very bad joke on the future citizens. Some of the queries which students and teachers of these subjects have put to me in reference to their school work are incredibly absurd, yet quite in keeping with the standard of intelligence which inspires the mockery of anatomy and physiology in the present curriculum.

Attention, Slim When Married Women

For the sake of efficiency and dispatch I appeal once more to the slim when married correspondents to omit the harrowing details when writing for reduction advice. As I have repeatedly testified, we take all that for granted, since you are quite obviously married. And when 200 nice plump matrons insist on mentioning the when married data in their letters one is apt to confuse the when married with the present figures and decline to give the desired advice. Of course if you married a blind man or a cripple who couldn't run, you may have been just as you are now, but as a general rule we may, as I say, take it for granted for the good of the service.

Tartar on Hair

Is there any harm in using a teaspoonful of salts of tartar in the rinse water when washing the hair? Is there any thing that will keep the hair from getting too oily? How often should the hair be washed?

(MISS R. L.)

Answer—Better keep tartar off the hair. Many women find a dry shampoo with orris root removes the excess oil from the hair. Excessive oiliness of scalp and hair is seborrhea (also called pityriasis), an early stage of dandruff. Send a stamped self addressed envelope for advice about the care of the hair. Wash the hair from once a month to twice a week, as may be necessary. The thoro application of a well made ointment of precipitated sulphur, one dram, and salicylic acid, 20 grains, in the ounce of cold cream, to the scalp (not the hair) is the best means of controlling seborrhea, I think. This is described in the general letter on the care of the hair.

Heart a Fast Worker

Kindly tell me the meaning of tachycardia and hyperopia.

(M. S. E.)

Answer—Tachcardia means excessively rapid heart beat. I muff the second one, unless it should be hyperopia, which is medicalese for too much eye farsightedness.

Should Teachers Smoke?

Please state the effects of cigaret smoking, comparing it with other forms of tobacco. Should a public school teacher smoke?

(MRS. R. L. E.)

Answer—The effects are the same as the effects of tobacco in any other form. Neither a teacher nor any one else should smoke in working hours or before the day's work is done.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST

IF I HAD WEALTH

If I had wealth, I'd give away
A portion of it every day,
To all the pain and want I see
A benefactor I would be.

I'd life the loads of debt and woe
From many worthy folks I know,
If only I'd a glistening hoard
I'd do what now I can't afford.

I'd play the friend to all I find,
I would be cheerful, brave and kind
And unto every suffering man
I'd be the Good Samaritan.

But now I have no time to spare,
What joys I have I cannot share,
I could be kindlier here, but then
I leave all that to richer men.

It costs me all I make to live,
To poorer folks I never give,
And what is curious to me,
My neighbors do not care for me.

They think me mean, ill-natured, and
A man that's hard to understand—
While Brown, who makes no more than I,
Has countless friends—I wonder why?

These neighbors do not seem to know
The thoughts I think as on I go,
They don't know what a friend I'd be
If wealth should somehow come to me.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga. (Adv.)

Don't Let That Cold Turn Into "Flu"

Ask an Oval Girl demonstrator. That cold may turn into "Flu," Grippe or, even worse, Pneumonia unless you take some of it at once. Rub good old Musterole on the chest (warm and see how quickly it brings relief.

Colds are mainly congestion. Musterole, made from pure oil of mustard, camphor, menthol and other simple ingredients, is a counter-irritant which stimulates circulation and helps break up the cold.

As effective as the queer old mustard plaster, deep the world without blister. Just rub it on with your fingertips. You will feel a warm tingle as it spreads the pores, then a cooling sensation that brings welcome relief.

To Mothers: Musterole is also made in mild form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.

At the Quilna

"North of 36" by Emerson Hough, depicting all the thrills and hardships of pioneer days on the Texas cattle ranges is appearing for the remainder of the week at the Quilna.

"North of 36" is a tale of the Texas cattle trail. Lois Wilson, as Taisie Lockhart, manager of her own vast ranch in Texas, finds herself penniless, with no means of disposing of her cattle.

Then comes word from way up "North of 36" that a market is open. With her herd and cow hands, Taisie makes the start over the long perilous trail.

A notable cast has been founded to visualize this story of pioneer days. It includes Jack Holt, Ernest Torrence, Lois Wilson and Noah Beery in featured roles. Quilna News, and an Aesop Fable are added attractions.

"Elixir of Youth"

Final presentations of the laughing play, "The Elixir of Youth," will be given by the Buskin Around company Wednesday at the New Orpheum theatre.

This production is one of the funniest plays offered at the New Orpheum theatre this season and increased daily attendance shows that it is appreciated. Both the cast and the chorus are well trained and capable.

Beginning at the matinee Thursday and continuing for the balance of the week the new musical comedy offering, "Is Marriage a Failure?" will be presented by the company.

This is said to be another play with a real plot and plenty of comedy situations and lines. New settings, costumes, musical numbers, vaudeville specialities and other features will be seen in the new bill. Members of the company predict that New Orpheum patrons will find this play to their entire liking. Blanket Night very popular with patrons of the theatre, will be the featured event Wednesday.

TAFT PRESIDES

Jurist in Charge of Red Cross Meeting

WASHINGTON —Chapter delegates from all sections of the country, with officials of the organization, were here today for the opening session of the annual meeting of the American Red Cross, to review activities of the past year and elect, among other officers, four members of the central committee.

With Chief Justice Taft presiding, the program for the general session included the presentation of regret at the death of Alva A. Adee, assistant secretary of state and a member of the organization's board of incorporators, and the election of his successor. An address by Chairman John Barton Payne reviewing the year's work of the Red Cross followed.

Placing of a wreath on the tomb of Woodrow Wilson, war president of the Red Cross, by Chairman Payne in company with the attending delegates was arranged pursuant to a resolution adopted at the national convention in October.

An address by Ambassador Jusserand of France was included on the program for the afternoon meeting of the general board.

CORONER'S JOB AT CLEVELAND IS SOFT

CLEVELAND — Figures published today show that the office of coroner of Cuyahoga-co is one of the best paid of all the county jobs. And it is also stated that it is the only county office still run under the fee system of pay.

For last year's work Coroner A. P. Hammond received $9,333.65. Compared with other public officials, it is the best with the exception of the sheriff whose income includes, besides his salary, profits that may be derived from the feeding of prisoners. The total is said to be around $21,000, made up of $6,000 salary, and $15,000 profit from the sum allowed and the actual cost of feeding the inmates of the jail.

STORES HAVING SALES EVENT

Dealers in New Retail District In Yule Campaign

Christmas necessities at a sacrifice in prices for the thousands of holiday shoppers attracted to Lima from a radius of 50 miles around the city are offered by district mercantile establishments thru the yuletide season.

Minimum price reductions of 10 per cent on all merchandise, except novelties, has boosted sales in the city and the appreciation of shoppers shown thru early purchases presages a banner shopping Yuletide season for merchants included in the district of W. Market-st and Elizabeth-st.

The novel idea conceived by a handful of merchants as a publicity stunt for the W. Market and Elizabeth-st shopping district, and as a means of Lima shoppers to obtain merchandise at a reduced rate, has grown until it tends to become an institution in Lima. From the few original stores engaged in the enterprise the movement has grown and practically all stores in the one shopping district are not only included in the movement but are boosting the stunt with the result that the holiday rush at stores is assuming that proportion that indicates a steady increase and elimination of the last hour Christmas rush.

Cooperation of merchants on the shopping district has tended to make the sales event a success as each store in addition to carrying a 10 per cent reduction on Christmas necessities has sliced specially advertised merchandise prices considerably more than the 10 per cent, a practice which assures shoppers of the opportunity of taking advantage of two sales within one.

NEW MOTOR FUEL IS SAID TO BE SUCCESS

PARIS—Tests by the artillery laboratories at Vincennes are said to have justified the claims made for a new motor fuel extracted from de-benzolized coal tar by a process invented by M. Makhonine, a Russian engineer.

When used in heavy trucks and tractors, according to Le Matin, it developed much greater power than gasoline and gave slightly higher mileage to the gallon. Its cost is said to be but one-tenth that of gasoline. Further experiments are to be made with 40 trucks which will cover between 2,000 and 3,000 miles each. Pending further data, experts here are withholding judgment, altho inclined to be skeptical of the merits claimed for the fuel. The process, it is stated, is also being tried in the United States. Its promoters claim that the fuel, which is non-inflammable, will make the French army independent of imported gasoline.

The Lima News

AND TIMES-DEMOCRAT

Published every afternoon except Sunday in The Lima News Building, 121 E. High-st, Lima, Ohio. Entered at the Lima, O. postoffice as second class mail matter.

EARL R. LEACH, Managing Editor. By Mail one year, $6.00. City Carrier, 15c a week.

A Wonderful Year

Lima has had the greatest paving and public improvement year in its history. No one can realize the wonderful improvements that have been accomplished unless a survey of the city is made.

In every direction fine, new streets spread, opening up new territory that is being built up and becoming a part of this fast expanding city. Sewers have been laid under all this paving to provide for the future and those responsible for the accomplishment of the work and the class of work done are to be complimented. Streets have been paved with a view to the future, materials that will last being used and laid in a manner that will give property owners the most for their money.

City hall is responsible for the forward policy of the last year. Much more will be done next year and by the end of that peiod our paving and sewer problems will be pretty well out of the way for the present. Then will come the only disagreeable factor—paying for them. But we shall not mind that for every piece of work has enhanced the value of abutting and surrounding property out of all proportion to the cost of the improvements.

It is worth one's time to drive entirely over the city, see the work that has been done by the city, the great amount of new building that has just been completed and is still under way. It gives one a good idea of the confidence folk have in their city and should be an incentive to everyone to chip in with a little more co-operation to keep things going ahead.

Grade Crossings

Few subjects of community interest are discussed with so much regularity as that of the grade crossings, says the Dayton News. This is due to the fact that in an age so modern and efficient in every respect, it remains one of the relics of a rather compromising past that railroad grade crossings within the limits of a city of average importance, are tolerated.

We have known all about the menacing features of this subject for a good many years. Few cities there are, so handicapped, but have reflected, officially and otherwise, upon the necessity for eliminating such crossings. But time has sped on, discussion was dropped, and when it was renewed a survey showed that it would require additional millions to do the work, over what would have been necessary several years before.

Railroad grade crossings constitute an economic waste. View the subject from any standpoint you care to and you are obliged to arrive at the same conclusion. Waste is that condition from which not only no value is derived, but as a result of which outlay is necessary without any returns, adequate or otherwise.

The grade crossing is a challenge to the progressiveness of American municipalities which pride themselves upon their civic spirit. Increasing traffic has served to emphasize how greatly these crossings have proved a nuisance and a menace, besides being an economic waste.

Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce, is approaching the subject by naming a committee of investigators which will report at a meeting in Washington, December 15 to 17. Not much more needs to be learned about the subject. The evil is thoronly understood. The elimination of dangerous crossings can be brought about, but only in one way, by their being supplanted by methods which carry railroad transportation overhead, underground, or around the city's densely populated business district. Of course that means an expenditure of money, but if measured in dollars and cents alongside the actual loss sustained by business held up in the course of a year's time, the expense of correcting this evil would be as nothing compared with the benefits and security which would be derived to city and citizens by the adoption of elimination measures.

The Diving Board

The most interesting phase of becoming successful after years of effort, is that we don't last long as a rule after we get there.

A man climbs to the top of the ladder. He hardly gets his breath before he finds himself falling thru space. The fellow on the rung below, who has been following him, has shoved him from his place.

Success has been described as a ladder. It is. The ladder leads to a diving board from which plunges a steady stream of "successes."

A few men stay at the top so long that they become chronic national characters. But usually a man is thru after 10 years or less at the top.

Maybe he keeps "the name." But, chances are, he's more or less of a figurehead. A newcomer is doing the real work—exerting the real power and authority.

Compared with the number of years it takes to climb the ladder, the average success remains at the top just long enough to examine the scenery and discover what's happened to him. There are, of course, exceptions. But exceptions prove the rule.

Have you noticed that, while men seem to rise to success faster than they used to, they also tend to slip sooner? Here's a man in his late thirties. He has a big income. Comes a period of depression. He's out of a job, probably broke. Maybe he comes back, maybe not.

Average ability is increasing. So each year it becomes more difficult to win out against competition—also more difficult to keep a position of success after we get it.

Twenty years ago, writers of good fiction were scarce. Now there are schools turning out writers in hordes. Writing itself has been analyzed and systematized so that it is merely high-class "carpenter work." Fortunately for writers their sales market has widened as fast as the nicrease in competent followers of this profession.

So it goes in nearly every line. The "stars" have their understudies, quite as capable as themselves. Psychologists and systematizers have "taken the works apart" and laid bare all secrets.

That's why it's harder to stay at the top than it used to be. Average ability has risen. Where there used to be only one available man to handle a big job, now there's a mob.

LIMA NEWS HEALTH SERVICE

—By DR. WILLIAM BRADY—

EXERCISE AND ENLARGED VEINS

From what I have said in recent talks about the relation of slouchy posture and the lack of physical training to varicose veins in general and piles in particular, it must be evident that exercise may be of some value in the prevention and cure of a varicose condition of the veins in any situation. Altho proper exercise has such value, individuals afflicted with any such varicosity should remember that rest is often the more important need for the time being. There are several acute contingencies or "complications" of this state of enlargement of the veins either in the legs or in the pelvis which imperatively demand absolute rest. On the other hand, in the majority of cases in the intervals of "attacks" a proper regimen of general exercise is the better policy.

Persons subject to varicose veins in the legs are usually afflicted with a complication of Billings complaint. They know that an important cause is "being on the feet too much." Here I pause and briefly run over all I have said in the preceding talks about piles, especially the allusions to the valveless condition of the veins affected, the sedentary habit of the race, the evolutionary congestion incident to man's upright posture, and all sort of thing, and I wonder whether I may have contributed thereby to the misapprehension about "being too much on the feet." But if you remember, I held up a tame rabbit, which succumbed in 12 hours, and then a wild one which endured the vertical posture for three days. The wild rabbit is ordinarily as much on his feet as the tame one. Now what is wrong here? Why, I have already given the diagnosis—Billings complaint. You see, so few of us study physiology.

Here is a switch wide open, and we've got to take it. Why shouldn't every child be taught the rudiments of human anatomy and human physiology along with reading, geography and Cicero. How come this strange determination of "cducated" people to remain in childish ignorance of themselves? What is the basis for the exaggerated contempt which our pseudo-intellectuals profess to feel for anything that pertains to "innards?" Why do the educational authorities offer so much active and passive resistance to the establishment of physical education in the schools? I don't know the answers to these questions.

The whole problem is a dark mystery to me. I can't conceive why man is not the proper study of mankind. There is no subject taught in elementary or high school that would be of greater value, intellectually and practically, than a reasonable outline of human anatomy and a faithful presentation of physiology co-ordinated with it. If the school requirements in the subject of mathematics, for instance, were as easy or as indefinite as they are in the subject of "physiology and hygiene," pupils could have daily crossword puzzle contests and a good time generally instead of bothering their heads with abstruse algebra examples. The so called "physiology and hygiene" which is now taught in the elementary and high schools of the country is a very bad joke on the future citizens. Some of the queries which students and teachers of these subjects have put to me in reference to their school work are incredibly absurd, yet quite in keeping with the standard of intelligence which inspires the mockery of anatomy and physiology in the present curriculum.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Attention, Slim When Married Women

For the sake of efficiency and dispatch I appeal once more to the slim when married correspondents to omit the harrowing details when writing for reduction advice. As I have repeatedly testified, we take all that for granted, since you are quite obviously married. And when 200 nice plump matrons insist on mentioning the when married data in their letters one is apt to confuse the when married with the present figures and decline to give the desired advice. Of course if you married a blind man or a cripple who couldn't run, you may have been just as you are now, but as a general rule we may, as I say, take it for granted for the good of the service.

Tartar on Hair

Is there any harm in using a teaspoonful of salts of tartar in the rinse water when washing the hair? Is there any thing that will keep the hair from getting too oily? How often should the hair be washed?

(MISS R. L.)

Answer—Better keep tartar off the hair. Many women find a dry shampoo with orris root removes the excess of oil from the hair. Excessive oiliness of scalp and hair is seborrhea (also called pityriasis), an early stage of dandruff. Send a stamped self addressed envelope for advice about the care of the hair. Wash the hair from once a month to twice a week, as may be neccessary. The thoro application of a well made ointment of precipitated sulphur, one dram, and salicylic acid, 20 grains, in the ounce of cold cream, to the scalp (not the hair) is the best means of controlling seborrhea, I think. This is described in the general letter on the care of the hair.

Heart a Fast Worker

Kindly tell me the meaning of tachycardia and hyperopia.

(M. S. E.)

Answer—Tachcardia means excessively rapid heart beat. I muff the second one, unless it should be hyperopia, which is medicalese for too much eye farsightedness.

Should Teachers Smoke?

Please state the effects of cigaret smoking, comparing it with other forms of tobacco. Should a public school teacher smoke?

(MRS. R. L. E.)

Answer—The effects are the same as the effects of tobacco in any other form. Neither a teacher nor any one else should smoke in working hours or before the day's work is done.

JUST FOLKS

—By EDGAR A. GUEST—

IF I HAD WEALTH

If I had wealth, I'd give away
A portion of it every day.
To all the pain and want I see
A benefactor I would be.

I'd life the loads of debt and woe
From many worthy folks I know,
If only I'd a glistening hoard
I'd do what now I can't afford.

I'd play the friend to all I find,
I would be cheerful, brave and kind
And unto every suffering man
I'd be the Good Samaritan.

But now I have no time to spare,
What joys I have I cannot share,
I could be kindlier here, but then
I leave all that to richer men.

It costs me all I make to live,
To poorer folks I never give,
And what is curious to me,
My neighbors do not care for me.

They think me mean, ill-natured, and
A man that's hard to understand—
While Brown, who makes no more than I,
Has countless friends—I wonder why?

These neighbors do not seem to know
The thoughts I think as on I go,
They don't know what a friend I'd be
If wealth should somehow come to me.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga. (Adv.)

Goldmine Discovered

It has been said that every person either has written a play or has wanted to.

Manford Gross, director of the Players Guild stock company now playing at the Faurot Opera house, knows this better than any other person in Lima for each year he reads or scans several hundred plays presented by amateurs for use in the stock company repertoire.

The thrill that comes to a stock company but once in a life time is experienced in Milwaukee during this company's three year stay there. One day an enterprising young business man gave Director Gross a play he had written and asked him to look it over. The title of the play was "The Storywoman" and this alone seemed to give promise of value. Reading of the play started and became apparent that there was amusing dialect and excellent dramatic situations. By the time the reading was finished Director Gross was positive that a theatrical gold mine had been discovered.

The next three weeks were spent in preparing the play for presentation and then it was offered to the public. It went over with a bang—as stage folks say. In fact it was such a success that it seemed good enough for Broadway and A. H. Woods, producer, was telephoned a representatives of Wood's saw the play and 24 hours later was his property for New York production Four months later at the Eltinge theatre it was a pronounced success as "The Woman on the Jury," and was later made into a motion picture.

This play brought success to three persons. One was the author of the production and the other Miss Myrtyl Ross, the young man who played the title role. Miss Ross is heading the Players Guild here and is a real star as theatre goers are ready to tell you.

And Director Gross is still willing to read plays

"North of 36" by Emerson Hough, depicting all the thrills and hardships of pioneer days on the Texas cattle ranges is appearing for the remainder of the week at the Quilna.

"North of 36" is a tale of the Texas cattle trail. Lois Wilson, as Tainie Lockhart, manager of her own vast ranch in Texas, finds herself penniless, with no means of disposing of her cattle.

Then comes word from way up "North of 36" that a market is open. With her herd and cow hands, Tainie makes the start over the long perilous trail.

A notable cast has been founded to visualize this story of pioneer days. It includes Jack Holt, Ernest Torrence, Lois Wilson and Noah Beery in featured roles. Quilna News, and an Aesop Fable are added attractions.

"Elixir of Youth"

Final presentations of the laughing play, "The Elixir of Youth," will be given by the Buzzin' Around company Wednesday at the New Orpheum theatre.

This production is one of the funniest plays offered at the New Orpheum theatre this season and increased daily attendance shows that it is appreciated. Both the cast and the chorus are well trained and capable.

Beginning at the matinee Thursday and continuing for the balance of the week the new musical comedy offering, "Is Marriage a Failure?" will be presented by the company.

This is said to be another play with a real plot and plenty of comedy situations and lines. New settings, costumes, musical numbers, vaudeville specialities and other features will be seen in the new bill. Members of the company predict that New Orpheum patrons will find this play to their entire liking. Blanket Night very popular with patrons of the theatre, will be the featured event Wednesday.

STORES HAVING SALES EVENT

Dealers in New Retail District In Yule Campaign

Christmas necessities at a sacrifice in prices for the thousands of holiday shoppers attracted to Lima from a radius of 50 miles around the city are offered by district mercantile establishments thru the yuletide season.

Minimum price reductions of 10 per cent on all merchandise, except novelties, has boosted sales in the city and the appreciation of shoppers shown thru early purchases presages a banner shopping Yuletide season for merchants included in the district of W. Market-st and Elizabeth-st.

The novel idea conceived by a handful of merchants as a publicity stunt for the W. Market and Elizabeth-st shopping district, and as a means of Lima shoppers to obtain merchandise at a reduced rate, has grown until it tends to become an institution in Lima. From the few original stores engaged in the enterprise the movement has grown and practically all stores in the one shopping district are not only included in the movement but are boosting the stunt with the result that the holiday rush at stores is assuming that proportion that indicates a steady increase and elimination of the last hour Christmas rush.

Cooperation of merchants on the shopping district has tended to make the sales event a success as each store in addition to carrying a 10 per cent reduction on Christmas necessities has sliced specially advertised merchandise prices considerably more than the 10 per cent, a practice which assures shoppers of the opportunity of taking advantage of two sales within one

WASHINGTON —Chapter delegates from all sections of the country, with officials of the organization, were here today for the opening session of the annual meeting of the American Red Cross, to review activities of the past year and elect, among other officers, four members of the central committee.

With Chief Justice Taft presiding, the program for the general session included the presentation of regret at the death of Alva A. Adee, assistant secretary of state and a member of the organization's board of incorporators, and the election of his successor. An address by Chairman John Barton Payne reviewing the year's work of the Red Cross followed.

Placing of a wreath on the tomb of Woodrow Wilson, war president of the Red Cross, by Chairman Payne in company with the attending delegates was arranged pursuant to a resolution adopted at the national convention in October.

An address by Ambassador Jusserand of France was included on the program for the afternoon meeting of the general board.

CORONER'S JOB AT CLEVELAND IS SOFT

CLEVELAND — Figures published today show that the office of coroner of Cuyahoga-co is one of the best paid of all the county jobs. And it is also stated that it is the only county office still run under the fee system of pay.

For last year's work Coroner A. P Hammond received $9,333 65. Compared with other public officials, it is the best with the exception of the sheriff whose income includes, besides his salary, profits that may be derived from the feeding of prisoners. The total is said to be around $21,000. made up of $6,000 salary, and $15,000 profit from the sum allowed and the actual cost of feeding the inmates of the jail.

NEW MOTOR FUEL IS SAID TO BE SUCCESS

PARIS—Tests by the artillery laboratories at Vincennes are said to have justified the claims made for a new motor fuel extracted from de-benzolized coal tar by a process invented by M. Makhonine, a Russian engineer.

When used in heavy trucks and tractors, according to Le Matin, it developed much greater power than gasoline and gave slightly higher mileage to the gallon Its cost is said to be but one-tenth that of gasoline. Further experiments are to be made with 40 trucks which will cover betwen 2,000 and 3,000 miles each Pending further data, experts here are withholding judgment, altho inclined to be skeptical of the merits claimed for the fuel The process, it is stated, is also being tried in the United States. Its promoters claim that the fuel, which is non-inflammable, will make the French army independent of imported gasoline.

MRS. KLINGER PRESIDES AT TEA

Mrs. Clarence Klinger will preside at a beautifully appointed tea at the Lima club, Wednesday evening as a compliment to Miss Violet L. Bradley, bride-elect of Calvin F. Selfridge. Yellow, pink and lavender will be carried out effectively in the appointments, with roses, violets and sweet peas forming the centerpieces for the two long tables to be laid in the private dining room. At either side will be pink candles in crystal holders, tied with tulle in rainbow shades. The dainty rose bud nut cups will be in shades of the prevailing color scheme.

Guests, who include intimate friends of the bride-elect, will include: Mrs. W. C. Bradley, Mrs. O. B. Selfridge, Mrs. W. L. Parmenter, Mrs. Warren Parmenter, Mrs. R. T. Gregg, Mrs. Roy B. Gregg, Mrs. M. S. Thompson, Mrs. Harry L. Gayer, Cincinnati, Mrs. Emmett R. Curtin, Jr., Mrs. Chester M. Cable, Mrs. P. M. Hulsken, Mrs. E. J. Curtiss, Mrs. J. W. Roby, Mrs. Dwight O'Ferrall, Mrs. Forster Robinson, Miss Josephine Garretson, Miss Florence Price, Miss Annette Roby, Miss Martha Roby, Miss Anna Bradley, Miss Margaret Gregg, and Miss Bradley.

Complimenting Miss Violet Bradley, whose marriage to her son, Calvin F. Selfridge, will be an event of the Christmas holidays, Mrs. O. B. Selfridge, 650 W. Market-st, has issued invitations for a bridge-tea to be given at her home Friday at 2 o'clock.

SUSIE SMART'S ADVICE

Dear Miss Smart:

We are two girls 16 and 17 years old. How late should we stay out at nights? What should be our correct weight and height? Are there any real nice boys in Lima? We have been out with a few and all but one has been ungentlemanly. When a boy asks for four dates in succession and you refuse every time, do you think that is a sign he cares for me. How is this writing?

ONE OF A PAIR.

I believe it is for your parents to decide as to the hour you should come home from parties. It is usually customary for young girls of 16 or 17 to be home at least by 11 o'clock. There would be no definite height for girls of your age, but you should range from 4 feet 11 inches to about 5 feet 2 inches, and with those heights the weight should vary from 110 to 117 pounds. Surely there are nice boys in Lima, as well as any other city. If you are courteous, polite and not forward, I am sure the young men will treat you as you want to be treated. Your actions sometimes are an influence in the judgment of character and breeding. Don't be discouraged because you have been a little unlucky in your boy acquaintances. There are many nice young boys and you will meet them. It seems plausible that this young man must want your friendship if he will bravely ask you for more dates, having been refused several times in succession. Your writing is very good.

Dear Miss Smart:

My brother, who is a bachelor of 40, is in love with his stenographer. We are afraid that they are going to be married. I have tried to point out to him that this 27-year-old girl is only in love with his money but he can't see it that way. Don't you think he ought to stay unmarried and take care of our old mother who makes her home with him? SISTER.

No. I think that everyone who wants to marry should be permitted to do so without interference. He will undoubtedly go on providing for your mother even if he does marry.

Miss Smart:

Just for fun I tried on a blond wig the other day in the hair store. It was much more becoming to me, with my brown eyes, than my own red hair. Could I bleach my hair successfully, and if so, what would I use? PEG.

Hair never can be bleached successfully, Peg. It always looks more or less like straw. And there is no more stunning combination than red hair and brown eyes. Be thankful for it.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Kelly, E. Franklin-st, opened their home to the officers of the Olivet Presbyterian Missionary society and their husbands for an informal evening recently. Plans were made for a missionary tea to be held at the home of Mrs. E. L. Malone. Later the hostess served refreshments.

Those attending included Mr. and Mrs. Ira Shaffer, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Sullivan, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Phillips, Mrs. J. C. Ford, Mrs. William Wilson and Silas Hoover.

Mrs. J. H. Wallace, 1062 W. Elm-st, was hostess to the Quilna Bridge club members and a number of guests at her home Tuesday. Mrs. rank Wright was high among the members, while Mrs. Walter Rowlands received the guest remembrance. At the close of the game a delicious two course tea was served. The color scheme of blue and yellow predominated, with a blue bowl filled with yellow chrysanthemums centering the table, which was arranged in the dining room. At the four corners were blue cathedral candles and the crystal nut cups were tied with blue tulle. Mrs. Wallace was assisted by her daughter, Miss Margaret.

Guests other than club members were Mrs. P. A. Kahle, Mrs. E. C. Powell, Mrs. Merton Seiler, Mrs. Walter Rowlands, Mrs. John Galvin and Mrs. Benjamin Altschul.

The club will meet after the holidays with Mrs. Frank Wright, S. Cole-st.

Mrs. J. B. Hoffman and sons, Robert and William Jears, Cleveland, returned to their home after visiting with Mrs. Hoffman's mother, Mrs. Nell Schnabel, 318 S. Scott-st.

Mrs. Glen C. Butler, W. Elm-st was hostess to the members of the Wednesday Matinee Bridge club with a luncheon at her home, Wednesday. Baskets of red roses centered the small tables and the appointments were in the Christmas colors of red and green. At the conclusion of the afternoon of play, the annual "grab bag" was an interesting feature.

Mrs. E. R. Lindesmith was the only guest. Club members include: Mrs. C. A. Black, Mrs. F. C. Blake, Mrs. M. C. Newton, Mrs. Henry Deisel Jr., Mrs. William P. Deisel, Mrs. John R. Carnes, Mrs. J. Allan Brady, Mrs. Frank Kominsuk, Mrs. Jack Ramsey, Mrs. W. B. Hawke, Mrs. Harry Workman, Mrs. Alfred Wemmer and Mrs. M. R. Tate.

The Christmas meeting of the W. C. T. U. was held Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Joel Spyker, 347 Lincoln-av. Miss Mabel Parkins sang several delightful numbers, and following Mrs. M. D. Owen told an interesting Christmas story.

The members brought jelly to this meeting, which is to be given to the Day Nursery and it was also decided to fill several baskets of provisions for two worthy families for Yuletide cheer. The donations for this are to be taken to the Court House Friday noon, where Mrs. Lorett oDurbin will be in charge. Mrs. A. L. Ransottom and Mrs. C. W. Long will deliver the baskets. At 4 o'clock the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Wallace Landis and Mrs. Shrider served dainty refreshments.

Mrs. J. E. Dershem, 331 N. Charles-st, will entertain members of the C. C. 500 club at her home Thursday afternoon.

WHERE'S YOUR WARRANT?

Dorothy Martin Hillman. She ran away from her Chicago husband at the end of a month's honeymoon. He telegraphed all along the line for detectives to detrain her. At Fort Wayne, Ind., and at Crestline, O., when detectives approached her she said, "Where's your warrant. You can't arrest a woman for leaving her husband, can you?" And that bit of feminine logic cleared her way to New York.

Mrs. J. Leonard Schnabel, 1552 W. High-st, entertained a number of intimate friends at her home Tuesday with bridge, as a compliment to Mrs. A. H. Creps, who leaves next week to spend the winter months in Florida. Following the afternoon of play, Mrs. Frank Moke was high and was presented with a lovely gift. Christmas appointments were used in the tea, which was served at 5 o'clock.

The guests included: Mrs. Oliver Steiner, Mrs. Fred Beam, Mrs. H. O. Bentley, Mrs. Frank Moke, Mrs. J. B. Poling, Mrs. Charles Killen, Mrs. Clarence Miller, Mrs. O. E. Davis, Mrs. M. P. Colt, Mrs. J. B. Hoffman, Cleveland, Mrs. E. J. Curtiss, Miss Lillian Taylor and the honor guest.

Another affair being given honoring Mrs. Creps will be an informal bridge at the home of Mrs. T. J. Hofman, W. Wayne-st, Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Fred E. Gooding, 1626 Lakewood-av, was hostess to the members of the Wednesday Bridge club and a group of guests at her home Wednesday with a luncheon-bridge.

Guests other than club members were: Mrs. William Wemmer, Mrs. Henry Wemmer, Mrs. Henry Deisel Sr., Mrs. E. M. Gooding, Mrs. A. G. Sawyer, Mrs. Donald Campbell, Mrs. Harry Wright Jr., and Mrs. Harry L. Gayer.

NILES CITIZENS SEEK TO RETAIN MAYOR

NILES — The Rev. R. T. Ketcham, Baptist pastor, left today for Columbus bearing petitions to Governor Donahey aking that he disregard the recommendation of the special grand jury that Mayor Harvey Kistler of Niles be ousted in connection with his policy during the riot between klan and anti-klan factions at Niles Nov. 1.

The petitions were circulated after a meeting in the Methodist church here Sunday night had endorsed Mayor Kistler's policy.

Rev. Ketcham, before leaving, intimated he probably would discuss with the governor charges to do with the conduct of the grand jury investigation.

Meanwhile 12 Niles men, the first of 104 indicted by the grand jury to be arrested, were at liberty under $1,000 bond following their arrest yesterday by Sheriff John Thomas.

COMMUNITY CHRISTMAS CELEBRATION PLANNED

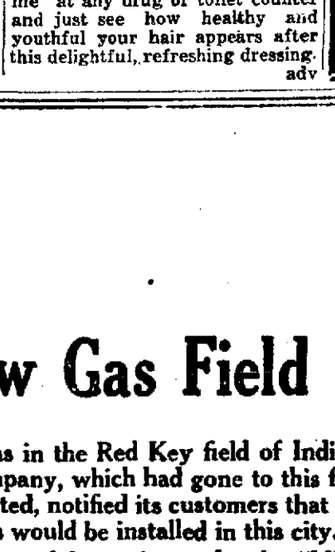

COLUMBUS GROVE — Plans for the Community Christmas tree, to be held in Columbus Grove on Christmas eve, under auspices of the Exchange club, have been completed. The tree will be erected in the city park and will be lighted and trimmed. From it each child will receive a treat of candy.

Baskets of food will be given needy families by club members. Charles H. Jones is president of the club. Following Jan. 1, the following new officers will be in charge: Dr. A. E. Stetler, president; J. H. Fortney, vice-president; Dr. J. F.

Beauty

A Gleamy Mass of Hair

35c "Danderine" does Wonders for Any Girl's Hair

Girls! Try this! When combing and dressing your hair, just moisten your hair-brush with a little "Danderine" and brush it through your hair. The effect is startling! You can do your hair up immediately and it will appear twice as thick and heavy—a mass of gleamy hair, sparkling with life and possessing that incomparable softness, freshness and luxuriance.

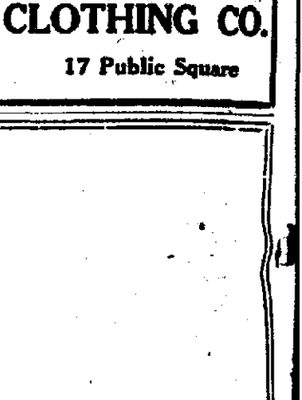

While beautifying the hair "Danderine" is also toning and stimulating each single hair to grow thick, long and strong. Hair stops falling out and dandruff disappears. Get a bottle of "Danderine" at any drug or toilet counter and just see how healthy and youthful your hair appears after this delightful, refreshing dressing. adv

RIGHT AFTER A SEVERE ILLNESS

McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets Helps You Gain Strength and Put on Needed Weight—Great.

Nothing like the vitamines in Cod Liver Oil to help convalescing people to quickly get strong and well—everybody knows that.

But nobody wants to take the ill-smelling, horrible tasting stomach upsetting oil itself, so nowadays, up to date medical men are ordering a tablet of Cod Liver Oil and it surely does do the work.

Ask Hunter's Drug Stores, Enterprise Drug Store or any regular druggist for a box of McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets. They are sugar coated and as pleasant to take as candy.

Skinny men and women take them to speedily put on plenty of good healthy flesh and for this purpose they are so extremely good that thin men and women often take on five pounds or over in 30 days. As a matter of fact, your druggist will return your money if you don't take on five pounds in 30 days.

Great for weak, run-down children, too, and gives them a hearty appetite—60 tablets, 60 cents.

Another New Gas Field

WHEN the supply of natural gas in the Red Key field of Indiana began to wane, the Lima company, which had gone to this field after the St. Marys field was exhausted, notified its customers that after October 1, 1902, standard meters would be installed in this city.

This step was the result of the wasteful practice under the "Mixer Rate" when the amount of gas used did not determine the amount of the monthly bill. Patrons were given their choice of buying meters outright and receiving gas at 20 cents per thousand cubic feet or renting a meter at $3.50 per year and paying the full ordinance rate of 25 cents per thousand.

But even these measures failed to save the Red Key field for long and during 1905 the company served notice that the supply had become inadequate and good service no longer could be maintained.

On failure of the Red Key field the Lima company entered into a contract for a supply of gas to be furnished from the Licking County field, located east of Columbus, Ohio. The new field was about six square miles in area and at that time was producing about 33 million cubic feet of gas per day, sending out at 750 pounds pressure at the wells.

Contracting for a gas supply in that locality necessitated the laying of about 125 miles of transmission line in order to bring the gas to this city.

When the company had definitely obtained this new source of supply the Lima city council granted a new rate ordinance permitting a charge of 30 cents per thousand cubic feet for the first two years of a five year ordinance and 33 cents per thousand during the remaining three years.

The city of Lima was supplied with gas from the Licking field for a period of six years. Then, like the St. Marys and Red Key fields, this source began to weaken and it was seen that it was merely a matter of a brief period before it would be entirely exhausted.

Lima had grown steadily and was then a city which could not well afford to have a serious gas shortage. It had always enjoyed an abundant supply of this luxury fuel, having drained two fields already and was rapidly draining the third. Much money had been spent in jumping from one field to another and the company found it no easy matter to acquire a new supply.

However, a new field was tapped and the distributing system here again showed signs of an abundant flow.

Tomorrow we shall tell you of the opening of another gas field and of the near end of natural gas as a fuel in Lima.

CORRIGAN

by EDMUND SNELL

17—AT THE HOUSE OF THE SEVEN STARS

BEGIN HERE TO DAY

Corrigan is the proprietor of the Orang-Puteh estate in Borneo. Fellowes, the first assistant, warns Corrigan that his life is in danger. A Tamil woman—"black as a crow"—who formerly was in the employ of one of the Corrigan's enemies is now seeking his life.

As they go to Corrigan's bungalow to discuss the situation, Corrigan finds a sack placed rather carelessly in the center of the front room. He learns from a servant that a black woman left the sack there. Corrigan gives orders that in the future all native women found wandering on the estate must be detained. Then he proceeds to open the sack. When they cut the leather thong that binds the opening of the sack, a succession of cocoanuts roll out. Then a cobra falls, writhing, onto the heap.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

"Good Lord!" ejaculated Fellowes. "A cobra!"

Corrigan went to the table and pulled out a drawer. He returned to the rail, motioned the watchman aside, and blew off the reptile's head with a single round.

"Here endeth the first lesson," he said grimly, letting the automatic drop into the chair with the newspapers. He waved to the Sikh to signify that he could go, and turned to the first assistant. "If I hadn't met you this morning, I believe I should have opened that sack in here!"

"I wonder if you would!" murmured the assistant half to himself. He hooked forward a chair and sat down, resting his elbows on the table. "D'you know, Corrigan, I've been learning a deuce of a lot lately. That woman's a no-end dangerous factor in our lives. You know more about Tamils than I do, or am ever likely to. They're possessed of a deuce of a lot of cunning, amounting to something like genius. They understand the uses of drugs our people have never heard of. I have it on very good authority that Jacobson was pretty white before he started living with that girl. From the moment he let her into his house—he went wrong. It appears she doped his food so successfully that his will power was gradually weakened. He became like putty in her hands. Then Zariman the Terrible landed. She worked that—while Jacobson looked on. Zariman—in his attempt to rouse the Mahometans against the whites—did pretty handsomely; but Jacobson only saw a small proportion of the money. That she-devil drugged Jacobson to help Zariman and yet, such is the way of women, the moment you and Jacobson covered with your pistol — she betrayed the false prophet into your hands. . . ."

Corrigan pressed the bell.

"Where did you get all this?" he asked.

"In the House of the Seven Stars."

Fellowes leaned back in his chair, the tips of his fingers pressed together in front of him.

"What's that?" demanded Corrigan. "A night club?"

"As a matter of fact — that's precisely what it is. It's situated in a somewhat remote spot where two forest paths cross. It's a more or less select establishment, the ... being an annex for coolies. The building I want you to bear in mind caters for mandors, Chinamen — and the higher paid employes. It's an inoffensive looking place. It wouldn't occur to most people that it was a den of vice.

"Every man-jack of the natives is mortally afraid of the Black Witch. They say, in their picturesque manner, that the kiss of the Black Witch is like a snake; but, as far as I can see, most of 'em are prepared to risk it if she'd let 'em. The beauty of it all is that she won't! She's got them all in the hollow of her hand. I've watched her methods, night after night. From a psychological point of view — it's most interesting."

"Here's luck," said the proprietor, lifting his glass.

"Cheerio!"

"All this is news to me," said Corrigan, setting down his glass. "May I inquire exactly where all this affects me?"

Fellowes grinned and jerked his thumb over the rail.

"You oughn't to want much enlightening — after that," he assured him. "Oh, I'm no detective! I only went to these pleasant little meetings for amusement — and education. I found it improved my knowledge of the native dialects, and all that sort of thing. It was when the lady entered the case that he fun really began—!"

"It usually does!" agreed Corrigan acidly.

"I argued to myself that a woman doesn't go to a lot of trouble for nothing," pursued Fellowes. "She was obviously out to get someone into her clutches—for some definite end. I gathered enough last evening to assure me that you were the end!"

"I'll come down with you tonight, if you're agreeable," declared Corrigan. "I should like to be present when the plans for my own assassination were being discussed!"

"It'll be a tight fit, I think; but we'll manage. Come and have makan with me—and we'll go together."

Corrigan's new cook boy came into announce that the meal was ready. For the first time Fellowes had an opportunity of observing him closely. He stared hard after him as he went down the passageway which led to the back of the house.

"How's that feller shaping?" he inquired of Corrigan.

"Oh! He cooks pretty well, which is something. I haven't had a lot of time to observe him carefully. I engaged him principally because he turned up just at the critical moment when I was without one. My last bright beauty, you'll remember, met with a tragic end!"

They strolled into the living room and sat down before some exceedingly thin soup which appeared to be fully peppered!

"He is not what you might term my ideal cook boy," continued Corrigan. "For one thing he speaks a tolerable amount of English, which is at once a damn nuisance and an extremely bad sign. He's inordinately proud of a cookery book presented him by a misguided Englishwoman and printed in both languages. I've a hunch — as the Americans say —that he tampers with the whisky."

Fellowes broke off a piece of bread.

"The heathen Chinee is peculiar!" he quoted.

Corrigan thumped the table with his fist.

"It's the other variety that I've no use for," he declared. "If I find him up to any of his tricks —I'll fire him right away."

"Of course," said Fellowes, nodding wisely. "A revengeful oriental cook compares very favorably with an active volcano. You never know when it's going to start—or where!"

"No," said Corrigan, "but you get a pretty fair idea where you're going to finish!"

They approached the House of Seven Stars by a circuitous route indicated by the first assistant. It was close upon ten and, beneath the leafy screen formed by interwoven branches, the darkness was intense. The night air was fraught with a thousand varying insect noises; the deeper throated croaking of giant bullfrogs; mysterious crashings of strange creatures thru the matted undergrowth.

Fellowes caught Corrigan's arm.

"We must go carefully here," he whispered. "The building is just ahead, in a clump of palms. Follow close beh'nd me."

Then minutes later they paused before a crazy flight of bamboo steps. Fellowes tapped seven times on the woodwork. A pause, and then a hoarse voice challenged them from a dark opening in the wall above them. There ensued a whispered conversation which apparently ended satisfactorily, for the assistant turned to his employer.

"I'll go up first," he said softly. "I don't think it'll stand our combined weight."

"Carry on," replied Corrigan shortly.

The planter was enjoying himself immensely. This was an adventure after his own heart. It had ever been his custom to go forward to meet his enemy. To be present at the signing of his intended death warrant appealed to his sense of humor.

"All right," came a voice from the top of the ladder.

He found himself presently in a room like a cupboard—evidently employed as a sleeping apartment. A hurricane lamp—turned low—stood in one corner by an opium pipe of bamboo with a broad china cuplike contrivance fastened to a central plate of white metal. He recognised a Chinese pillow made of papier mache, painted red.

The door closed to behind them and Fellowes pointed silently to a series of holes drilled in the party wall in a convenient position for a man standing to peep thru. Corrigan surmised that the original intention had been for ventilation.

He removed the Terai hat he had worn for comfort, and put it carefully in one corner. Presently he selected a couple of spy holes and peered into the main room of the building.

His first impression was one of a vast smoke cloud which clung to the ceiling because there was very little opportunity for it to get away. Gradually, in the yellow rays of a single oil lamp which swung in the center, he managed to make out a circle of squatting men. They were orientals, most of them, but here and there he detected members of other races; a Pathan from the next estate but one; a kran clerk, who had no real claim to any race in particular. There were other forms beyond the rays of the lamp that he could not clearly see: A persistent sound of snoring came from mysterious hiding places he could not locate. There were drinking cups of every description and fat jars of the pernicious Sam-su. Occasionally, as from a distance, he heard the shrill laughter of women.

An Intimate Story of Innermost Emotions Revealed in Private Letters

TELEGRAM FROM LESLIE PRESCOTT TO JOHN ALDEN PRESCOTT

We are in great trouble. Alice died suddenly this morning. No one here to make arrangements. Karl overcome with grief. Will meet you at the train in the morning.

LESLIE.

Telegram From Sally Atherton to John Alden Prescott.

Arrived here this morning to find Leslie and her mother in great trouble. Alice Whitney committed suicide only about an hour before we arrived. Leslie was on her way to meet us when her mother caught her at the market where she had told the butler she was going to stop. Miss Ellington and I went directly to the Hamilton house and are doing everything we can. Mr. Whitney prostrated with grief, and everyone else so completely surprised and sorrow stricken they do not know what to do. Leslie tells me she is to meet you in the morning. Meantime I'll do what I can.

SALLY ATHERTON.

Telegram from Zoe Ellington to Ruth Burke

Arrived here to find a grief stricken household. Mrs. Alice Whitney committed suicide this morning. Luckily little Jack took to me immediately and I shall be able to relieve Mrs. Prescott of that care. Suggest you and Mr. Burke come over if possible.

ZOE ELLINGTON.

Day Letter From John Alden Prescott to Leslie Prescott

I cannot find words to tell you how sorry I am for you. I have been expecting, however, something of this kind, for I knew that no sane person could have acted as poor Alice has for some time back. You won't misunderstand me, will you, Leslie, when I tell you that it is absolutely impossible for me to be with you for a day or two? Some very important business has come up in the Acme settlements which requires my individual attention at this time. Syd is coming in my place, dear. He said he thought I should come but when I explained to him the predicament I was in, and that if he did not go to you I should have to let you get along alone, like the good friend he is, he started immediately by airplane. Will write you all the reasons why I cannot come tonight. Can only tell you this much, that it would mean the loss of several thousand dollars to us if I do not stay here at this time. I shall worry about you every minute and you must know I will come to you just as soon as I can. Lovingly, your husband,

JACK.

What Causes Insomnia?

You frequently hear people say that they dread night to come because they can't sleep.

Insomnia is very worrying, yet many people who are subject to it do not know that their condition is probably due to some cause which the physician can remedy.

It is said that half of all insomniacs are dyspeptics. Other causes such as poor circulation, anemia and constipation are also sometimes responsible, or may be caused by conditions in the eyes, ears, nose, throat, etc.

If you are subject to insomnia, put the facts before your physician and he can probably help you to end the trouble.

Whenever medicine is prescribed let us fill your prescriptions.

EVANS' ALL AMERICAN GRID SELECTIONS; PICKS TWO TEAMS ALMOST 100 PERCENT PERFECT

BY BILLY EVANS

PICKING an All-America football team is probably sportdom's most difficult task.

The football expert has no vital statistics concerning the play of each individual to guide him in his selections.

At the very best one cannot see more than 12 games during the football season. If fortunate to see different teams in action in each game it is possible to pass an opinion on only 24 elevens.

Very often an outstanding star has an off day, when you look him over and he appears very ordinary. Football players, like all other athletes, have their bad days.

Therefore, to pick an All-America team on 12 games as a basis is far from satisfactory. Two hundred major colleges play hundreds of games during the football season.

In order to reach a decision on the relative merits of the many star players scattered all over the country, it is necessary to rely on the judgment of coaches, officials and scouts.

In certain cases where there is an outstanding player of the Grange type, said player almost automatically gets a place on any All-America team. He's the exception, however.

In making my All-America selections, I have been guided by my own judgment after seeing 22 of the leading teams in action, plus the opinion of the game's greatest coaches and officials.

For my ends I have selected Wakefield of Vanderbilt and Lawson of Stanford. As second choice, Mahaney of Holy Cross and Luman of Yale. There is little to choose between any of the four, all stars.

Wakefield is one of the best ends I have seen in years. Southern experts rate him the greatest end the south has ever produced. And it must be remembered Bomar of Vanderbilt was an All-America selection last year.

The famous Glenn Warner, now coaching Stanford, writes me as follows concerning Lawson. "He is big, yet fast, equally capable on defense or offense, a wonder at catching forward passes. Positively worthy a place on any All-America team.

Mahaney of Holy Cross is rated by most of the authorities as the best end in the east with Luman a close second.

For the tackle position I favor McGinley of Pennsylvania and Beattie of Princeton. McGinley stood out in the two games I saw him play. Iregard him as the best tackle of the year. Beattie, who was at his best against Yale and Harvard, makes a great running mate for the Penn star.

At the same position on the second team I like Weir of Nebraska and Hancock of Iowa. Notre Dame players tell me Weir was the best forward they faced this year. Hancock is best of the Big Ten tackles.

Selecting a pair of guards was a tougher job than tackle. Diehl of Dartmouth is unquestionably one of the best of the year. His play in every game of the season, particularly against Yale, was scintillating. Almost alone he stopped the Blue offense three times in the old pinch.

Farwick of the Army gets the other guard. Notre Dame players rate him the best linesman they faced in the east.

For second choice, Slaughter of Michigan and Mahan of West Virginia get the call. Many officials I talked to were strong for Mahan. Slaughter was one of the Big Ten's best at guard.

Five players shape up for the center position: Lovejoy, Yale; Walsh, Notre Dame; Horrell, California; Garbisch, Army, and Brown of Michigan.

Garbisch is eliminated, having played eight years of college football. Walsh of Notre Dame decisively outplayed Garbisch when they met. It was about all even when Lovejoy of Yale faced the Army captain.

Injuries kept Walsh out of several games, two broken hands. Incidentally, this handicap affected his play in the latter games of the season. That fact alone keeps me from giving Walsh the position.

Which leaves Horrell of California and Brown of Michigan. I have selected Horrell as center. He was a star last year and is much improved this season.

Recently when Andy Smith was east scouting Penn in the Thanksgiving Day game, he made the following comment to me on Horrell:

"Horrell is the best center I have seen in my football career as coach and player. He is All-America if there ever was one."

In a letter received from Glenn Warner, coach at Stanford, California's greatest rival, he said:

"Horrell is the best center on the coast. He is an accurate passer and a wonder on both offense and defense. Best of all, he has brains and courage."

That brings us to the backfield. I have selected Grange of Illinois as one of the halfbacks. Comment on why is unnecessary. Crowley of Notre Dame gets the other position. Two wonder halfbacks.

Stuhldreher is elected to the quarterback position. From personal observation I know what he can do. What Knute Rockne says of him convinces me that he is entitled to the position. Dooley of Dartmouth is second choice, and a worthy rival.

To my way of thinking, Pond of Yale was the best backfield man in the east. He was Yale's man of destiny all season. I feel an All-America team would be incomplete without him in the lineup.

For that reason I have taken the liberty to shift Pond to fullback, even tho it crowds off the first team so great a player as McBride of Syracuse.

Pond, however, is a wonder at hitting the line as well as starring otherwise, so that I feel he fits in perfectly at full.

For my second team halfbacks, Baker, who rivaled the deeds of Grange in Big Ten circles, and Koppisch of Columbia, get the call.

And that's that.

GIBBONS LAMBASTS ANOTHER STIFF PROPOSITION HARD

Baseball's Battle Of Century Expected When Landis And Johnson Tilt At Meeting

EBONY HUED BOXER EASILY OUTFOUGHT

By HENRY L. FARRELL

NEW YORK—(By United Press)—Tom Gibbons proved himself the best light heavyweight in the world last night in Madison Square Garden when he stopped Kid Norfolk in 55 seconds of the sixth round of a scheduled 15 round contest that was staged for the Christmas fund.

Gibbons not only established himself as the most perfect fighter of his weight, but he earned a return bout with Jack Dempsey for the heavyweight championship.

"That's my next big bout — Dempsey and Gibbons. Gibbons has signed and I can get Dempsey," Rickard said today.

From the first punch of the fight, a hard left hand which Gibbons landed to Norfolk's head it was only a question of the number of rounds that Norfolk would last.

The exhibition of boxing skill and accurate punching that Gibbons gave was declared by veterans to have been one of the most perfect they had ever seen and it aroused to a frenzy a crowd of 12,000 that paid $107,599.

Gibbons was out for more than a victory over Norfolk. He wanted to prove that he had a just claim to a return bout with the heavyweight champion after staying fifteen rounds with him last year in Shelby, Mont. and he did that very thing.

Gibbons fought the greatest fight of his thirteen years in the ring. Throwing aside all the caution he took the offensive and every move he made was calculated to bring down the man in front of him.

Gibbons opened Norfolk's bad eye in the second round and he floored him for a count of five in the fifth round with a left to the jaw. A right to the body doubled up Norfolk in the sixth round and sent him to the floor on his face. Norfolk came up and fell over helpless on his back, trying to duck a left to the jaw. He struggled again to his feet at the count of nine and was trying to lift his arms when the referee stopped the fight.

Gibbons missed only one punch in the entire fight—a swinging uppercut in the fifth round that might have lifted Norfolk into the gallery if it had landed.

Altho he had to dry out to make the weight of 175 pounds Gibbons had plenty of steam in his punches. He outsmarted Norfolk by acting tired and by merely tapping him several times with his left hand. Norfolk made the mistake of thinking he could take the punches, and the first hard left in the third round knocked him dizzy and he never came out of it.

Gibbons and his family returned to St. Paul today.

"I'll fight anybody they will get for me, but I do want another bout with Dempsey," Gibbons said.

In the semi-final Tiger Flowers, colored middleweight from Atlanta stopped Johnny Wilson, former champion, in the third round. The fight was stopped when Wilson was out on his feet. Flowers is almost certain to be the next champion if he can get a match for the title.

IN THE MIND'S EYE OF THE SPORTS EDITOR

The officials of the National league, and presumably with the assistance of every loyal magnate and devotee in America, are taking steps to celebrate the first half-century of the National league which will occur next year.

* * *

The National league is the parent of all organized ball; it is the great oak from which sprung the fundamentals of the great national pastime; it is the same organization that back in 1876 at New York loyal and enthusiastic men met and set down permanent rules which in the abstract have governed it ever since. It was a staunch little craft that was builded by these enthusiasts; it has weathered many hard storms; for forty-nine consecutive seasons it has expounded the best in the art of ball playing that the cleverest men at the game could devise.

The National league was the successor of the National Association of Baseball Players. It was organized because the methods of the older organizations was influenced by gamblers; to correct many abuses and to remedy the evils that had contaminated honesty and fair play. The very first drastic action of the new league was to expel for life four players who were proven crooked. This occurred in 1877. They were members of the Louisville club—G. W. Hall, left fieldr; W. H. Craven, shortstop, A. H. Nichols, third baseman and James A. Devlin, pitcher.

These men were found guilty of "throwing games." It was too bad; Devlin was conceded one of the greatest pitchers the game had known up to that time. He suffered terribly for his wrong, as all suffer who play crooked; he received his reward from the gamblers a paltry $100. What a reward. Often he prayed the league officials to pardon him; they were unrelenting; he died a few years after, still asking for forgiveness.

* * *

It was the staunch building of the National league that fitted it for the rough sailing at different times thruout its history. The battle for right has won, and the game has grown to an extent that is truly astounding; it is the representative game of the American people, gaining each year in popular favor; it will continue to grow. The game had become so big that wise club owners sought a man to take absolute charge of its manifold duties; they choose Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis, an eminent jurist. He was found equal to the task and he has governed wisely and well.

* * *

But there are other wise men among the offical list of organized baseball; it is a part of human nature for the wisest to disagree. There is a bitter fight on between Landis and Ban Johnson "the sake of baseball." The quarrel may shake the staunchly built structure, but it will never shatter it. But it would be much better, would show stronger for the most good it these two leading minds would shake hands—bury the hatchet.

AS A MATTER OF FACT

Being a Criticism of the Just and the Unjust in the World of Professional and Amateur Sports

BY HARRY BRADBURY

Many football enthusiasts are wondering what Knute Rockne will do for a typical Notre Dame team next season with 17 of his varsity players turning in their uniforms. And this question has been asked of this great coach; his answer was characteristic of Rockne. "The 1925 team is playing along with the 1924 men, if not with the varsity, you'll find them with the freshmen." Rockne could give almost the exact lineup of his 1925 squad if he had a mind to; he's that sure. Aside from his high ability as a coach, he is above all else an optimist; has the ability to cheer the young player along, and this is another adjunct to his greatness; he is a joy spreader as well as football mentor in a college that has produced so many great teams. He has probably more followers among coaches than any other of the prominent coaches of other educational institutions. As an illustration, he does not believe in hard scrimmages, in other words, in pushing a player too hard. Now this is an accepted theory at many of the other colleges. He'll tell you that it is foolish to cripple or wear a team ragged. "It don't pay to injure valuable players in practice," is one of his pet theories. He has known for three years that there would be 17 players leave after the season of 1924; he's figured this all out. His system of allowing many of his second string players to go in against important teams is a well known fact. Why does he do this? Most probably to get an accurate understanding of their playing strength. The "four horsemen of the grid, Miller, Crawley, Layden and Stuhldreher, are thru, but it is certain that there will be a quartette ,or perhaps a larger number on the field next season, just as fast, just as strong in their respective positions as has characterized Notre Dame in the past.

INTERSECTIONAL FOOTBALL

From schedules that have already been arranged it is certain that there will be more intersectional football games in 1925 than in any other year in the history of the great college game. Everybody must admit that western football is just as strong as it is in the east. Western teams go east and draw just as large a crowd as can any of the eastern teams. "Red" Grange would draw 100,000 people to any of the great eastern stadiums if they would hold that many, and Notre Dame has already proven their drawing qualities. This being a fact, it has been wise to arrange with eastern teams to play in the middlewest. Penn wanted a game with Notre Dame but it is not likely that this can be arranged, because the Fighting Irish have a very heavy schedule already made up.

In the past few years the boxing game has spread to about all the civilized countries. We have had Italian and Austrian and South American boxers in this country. Germany is full of them, and so popular is the game becoming that the better class of mitt-shovers are drawing capacity audiences. It seems that the fans can't get enough of the game. A fellow named Samson Koerner is champion heavyweight. He is appearing in vaudeville with an American sparring partner, Artie Kauffman. The fellow is 37 years old and aside from his vaudeville engagements, he appears at Berlin's leading sport palace at noon and jams that place to capacity. Wonder if the immense purses offered to American boxers by American promotors has anything to do with the game becoming so popular across the big pond?

LEAGUES MAKE PLANS TO WAR FIGHTING BAN

NEW YORK—(United Press)—Baseball's battle of the century—a bout to the finish between Commissioner Landis and Ban Johnson, president of the American league which had been expected tomorrow at the joint meeting of the major league club owners, probably will be postponed for several weeks.

Commissioner Landis, at the bedside of his wife, ill in Rochester, Minn., is unable to attend the meeting and it cannot be held without him.

The two leagues, meeting here today in separate sessions probably will vote to postpone the meeting at the call of the commissioner, according to John A. Heydler, president of the National League.

Prospects for a hot session at the opening of the annual meeting of the American League here today were reduced when the National League at its annual meeting yesterday took only a mild and indirect slap at Johnson, whose scalp was said to be prepared for the knife of the series of meetings being held here.

Altho some of the American League club owners did not approve of Johnson's attack on Landis and the National League just before the world's series, it is not likely they will care to give him a stiff reprimand when the National League didn't lead a heavier punch.

In the annual report to President Heydler, Johnson received only an indirect reference when the National League president said it must stop the "innuendos and attacks directed at the National League."

There was no heavy blast of dynamite in the resolutions passed by the National League club owners endorsing the administration of Landis and praising him for the way he handled the New York Giant scandal.

Politicians among the baseball men expressed the opinion that the heavy artillery was pulled off Johnson because the National League wants the support of several American League club owners in getting Johnson by slower methods and that they thought it better not to antagonize the American League with a heavy public attack on its president.

The battle plan was to get Johnson before the joint meeting tomorrow and jump on him in a bunch, but the inability of Landis to attend the meeting will save Johnson's hide for a time at least.

Johnson arrived late yesterday. His secretary said that he would have no statements to make until after today's meeting.

The National League was unable to finish its business yesterday and an adjourned session was called for this afternoon.

The rumored opposition to Heydler from the New York and Pittsburgh clubs at the National League meeting went up in a bubble when Heydler was given a new four-year contract with a raise in salary from $18,000 to $22,500 a year.

No big deals have been completed and it is not likely any will be swung today.

JOHNSON IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK—(By Associated Press)—Byron Bancroft Johnson, president of the American League is esconced in a New York hotel awaiting the call to the arena.

Thruout the night the former "czar" of baseball, whose charges of gambling in the Pacific Coast League and criticisms of the action of Commissioner Landis in the O'Connell-Dolan bribery affair, have brought threats of strife to the annual major league baseball meetings, denied himself to interviewers.

According to his secretary, Johnson will have a statement to make, but not until after the joint meeting on Thursday, if such a gathering takes place.

Indications are that the joint session will be taken to Chicago as Commissioner Landis will be unable to come here on account of his wife's illness. President Heydler of the National League takes the position that nothing can be accomplished in joint session without the presence of the commissioner to cast the deciding vote, but the American League moguls may decide to hold the meeting. In this event Leslie M. O'Connor, secretary to the commissioner, will preside.

WILL ENDORSE LANDIS

The American League, meeting today at the Hotel Belmont, is expected to pass resolutions similar to those adopted by the National yesterday, assuring Commissioner Landis of the organization's confidence in his administration and, without mentioning names, taking to task any man who would obstruct the commissioner in the handling of his office.

Charles Comiskey, of the White Sox, long a baseball enemy of the league president, is expected here this morning to attend his first annual meeting in five years. Clark Griffith of Washington is reported to be leading the effort to reprimand the league head for his utterances. Johnson refused to attend the world series last year for the first time in 20 years.

The National League, at its annual meeting yesterday, stood firmly behind Landis, without delivering the severe arraignment of Johnson that had been advertised.

HEYDLER RE-ELECTED

President Heydler of the National League was rewarded with another four year term, at an advance in salary, but the figures were not made public.

A new board of directors was appointed, composed of Charles F. Ebbets, of Brooklyn, William F. Baker, of Philadelphia, August Herrmann of Cincinnati and Samuel Breadon, of St. Louis.

Plans were completed for the observance of the 50th anniversary of the organization with each city in the circuit setting aside a day for celebration. Special jubilee flags and calendars containing the schedule, together with a history of the league written by Cullen Cain, will be distributed and a pennant of gold will be awarded the 1925 champions.

Prizes will be awarded for the best essays on the subject of baseball penned by school children.

The player market was sluggish.

FOUR CATCHERS COVER CAREER OF W. JOHNSON

WASHINGTON—Four catchers have done practically all the receiving for Walter Johnson during the 18 years of his career.

His first backstop was Charley Street. The battery of Street and Johnson will live forever in baseball.

Then came Eddie Ainsmith, who caught him a longer time than any other receiver. Val Picinich and Muddy Ruel, his present handler, form the quartet.

Johnson pays Street the compliment of being the greatest catcher he has ever played with or against in the majors.

HERBST IS ELECTED CAPTAIN OF 1925 TEAM

"Joe" Herbst, star fullback of the 1924 Central football team, unanimously was chosen captain of the 1925 squad at the annual banquet held Tuesday evening at the Barr hotel. Several votes were cast for other candidates but when it was seen that Herbst was overwhelmingly the choice for next year's leader, a motion was made to make it unanimous.

Dinner was served at 6:30 p. m., following which Principal H. W. Leach, who acted as toastmaster, gave a talk. This was followed by short talks from Coach Ward E. Young, Assistant Coach Harold Bible, Cheer Leaders Marian Cost and "Jack" Morley, Student Manager Ray "Kelly" Barnett, and the following 13 senior letter men, who will graduate in June and will be lost to the squad next year. Captain William Stanyer, Bernie Blattner, John Boose, Marion Clapper, Les Cohn, Dallas Crider, Guy Cratty, Wendell Henderson, Morris Hughes, George Macdonald, Herb Van Horn, Willis Weaver and Walter Yingling Archie Adams, Richard Euller and Virgil Roush, seniors, who were awarded numerals at the mass meeting Tuesday afternoon, also gave short speeches.

More than 60 members of the squad, the school faculty, coaches, cheer leaders, student managers and other guests attended the banquet.

Herbst will captain a comparatively green team next year. The entire right side of the Central line of 1924 will be lost, together with two regular backfield men. The regulars who will not be back next season are Yingling, center; Weaver, guard; Stanyer tackle; Henderson and George Macdonald, ends, and Van Horn and Hughes, halves. Cohn, Boose, Blattner and Crider are sub backfielders who will be lost to the team next year, while Clapper and Cratty are two sub linemen who will not be back. Adams, Euller, Shaeffer and Roush, senior numeral winners, also are linemen.

This meeting may be considered the climax of the football season for Central, not only because the rewards were received by individual members of the team but also because the whole school was honored by the presentation of two trophies. One of goblet awarded by the Lima Michigan alumni each year to the winner of the South-Central Thanksgiving day clash to become the property of the school wining it three successive times. This is the second time in succession that Central has acquired it. The other trophy is a beautiful figure of a football player completing a punt. This was presented by Basinger's Jewelry store and will become the property of the school winning it two out of three times, this being the first year of its appearance.

The meeting was opened by the entire student body singing the Alma Mater led by Miss Howey. E. A. Hauenstein, faculty manager, who had charge of the meeting, then introduced Ralph Macken ie, president of the Lima University of Michigan Alumni club, who presented the cup to Captain William Stanyer. Hauenstein read the letter of presentation from Basinger's Jewelry store and then called Coach W. E. Young to the platform.

Coach Young endeavored to impress upon the students the meaning and work represented by the "C," and stressed the honor that went with it. Each wearer of the coveted "C" is a member of the varsity "C" association, which body has a large voice in the governing of athletics in the school.

Cheer Leaders Jack Morley and Robert Timmerman conducted personal yells for each of the following students as they were called to receive their letters: Joseph Herbst, William Stanyer, Marion Clapper, Dallas Crider, John Boose, Guy Cratty, Lester Cohn, Wendell Henderson, Morris Hughes, George Macdonald, Jot Mitchell, Willis Weaver, Herbert Van Horn, Walter Yingling, John Macdonald, Ray Means, Thomas Kotsonas, Harold Johns, Bernard Blattner, Robert Maginn, Richard Towe and Richard Current.

Numerals were awarded to the following: William Barmster, Robert Kuhn, Walter Henderson, Thomas Jones, Leran Langley, Charles Stewart, Robert Miller, Joe Shaffer, Paul Cohen, Ray Reeves, Archie Adams, Rilhard Euller and Virgil Roush.

Mr. Hauenstein presented a block "C" to Ray "Kelly" Barnett for his untiring efforts in behalf of the team thruout the season.

As a closing to the peppiest meeting on record at the end of a football season, J. Douglas Dole, president of the athletic association and Principal H. W. Leach spoke, Prof Leach called the meeting "a fitting climax for a most successful season."

Volley Ball Holds Sway At Y

Lima Y. M. C. A. volley ball teams took four out of five games from the Piqua "Y" sextet Tuesday night at the Y. M. C. A. gym. The scores were: 15-12, 15-9, 13-11, 5-15 and 15-12.

Lima "Y" team No. 1 took two straight games in the first set and then Lima "Y" No. 2 defeated the Piqua team two out of three games in the second set.

Piqua made a desperate comeback in the fourth game and handed the local "Y" the worst defeat o fthe evening, 15-5. It looked like another defeat for Lima in the third and deciding game of the set but Lima rallied and finally forged to the front and won.

Personnel of the Lima teams was: John Crejs Harold T. Deeds William Settos, S. W. Latterner, J. B. Poling, Fran kC. Cutter, O. V. McMillin, Harold Bowman, C. L. Waller, J. M. Butcher, Frank Schenk, H. F. Comstock, Theodore G. Harris, Dr. William Pence and James Evar.

SQUARED CIRCLE

Jack Sharkey New York featherweight, whose license was revoked for a recent assault on a referee, Appealed to the Boxing Commission for re-instatement. No action was taken.

NEW YORK—Luis Angel Firpo, the South American heavyweight, will referee half a dozen benefit bouts at the Lenox Sports club tomorrow night.

NEW YORK—Boxers of all weights of the United States scouting fleet will compete tonight at the 165th regiment armory.

BITTER RIVALS LACK STRENGTH AT SECOND BASE

DETROIT—The two bitterest rivals in the American League, Cleaveland and Detroit, are weak at the same position, second base.

That no club can be regarded as a pennant contender unless strong at the keystone position is an accepted truth of baseball.

Ty Cobb frankly admits that the lack of a capable second baseman beat him out of a pennant last year.

Cleveland lost a score of ball games during the season thru weakness at that position and consequent lapk of team play because of constant changing.

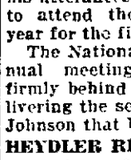

Gershe Gets Shade Best Of Bout

LORAIN, O. — (By United Press) — Battering Benny Gershe failed to flatten Johnny Andraws of Toledo, in their 10-rounder here Tuesday night. To that extent the Cleveland lefthander's performance was disappointing. But he did win nine of the ten rounds, to say nothing of the popular decision and a sizable slice of a capacity house.

Andrews went into a shell in the first round and stayed there until the ninth. Ad Thacher's battler gave a perfect simulation of an oyster retired to the evening, and Gershe had considerable difficulty penetrating his weavework of arms and gloves for a solid shot.

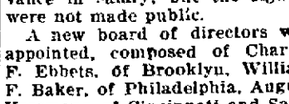

Andrews showed a flash of fighting form in the ninth that gave the thing the aspect of a contest for the first time. Coming out of his shell he rained a volley of rights and lefts on Gershe's head that caused the southpaw feather to back up.

WHEAT AND CORN SOARING

Big Buying Demand Is in Evidence

RISE FOLLOWS REACTION

Dry Weather Gives Oats Bullish Turn

CHICAGO — (By Associated Press) — For the third day in succession all deliveries of wheat and corn sold today above any previous quotations this season. A big buying demand for wheat and corn was in evidence, with Europeans actively purchasing future deliveries of wheat. Indications pointed also to liberal new export business in wheat. Opening prices for wheat here, which ranged from 1 1-4 to 2 1-2c higher, with May $1.55 3-4 to 1.67 1-4 and July $1.47 1-2 to 1.47 3-4, were followed by something of a reaction and then by a fresh upturn.

Corn and oats were bullish affected by continued hot, dry weather damaging corn in Argentina and by smallness of country offerings of corn production. After opening 7-8 to 1 5-8c up, May $1.29 1-2 to 1.30 the corn market underwent a moderate sag and then strengthened again.

Oats started unchanged to 5-8c higher, May 64 3-8 to 64 1-2. Later all deliveries showed an advance.

Provision averaged higher, responding to upturns in the value of grains and hogs.

TOLEDO—Wheat opened higher today and declined towards noon. Coarse grains, lard, ribs, cotton and clover were higher. Alsike and timothy continued firm.

TROUPER'S LIFE SUITS INDIAN

For Lo Leaves Soil for That of Showman

WASHINGTON — (By Associated Press) — Indians who forsake humdrum pursuits of the soil for the colorful, but uncertain life of wild west show troupers, and Navajo youngsters who are busy herding sheep to acquire learning, these are but a few of the problems Commissioner Charles H. Burke has to cope with as "father" to 340,000 Indians in 24 states who are under federal guardianship.

Commissioner Burke in his annual report declares that if department sanction were given to all requests for Indians from a few dozen to several hundred, "to add savage scenery to wild-west performances or give so-called pageantry a pagan coloring, thousands of the Indians would be on the road much of their time with nothing at home of any value when they returned."

Showmen, the report continued, "offer constant inducements to the Indians to leave their homes and local means of support for pleasurable attractions of various kinds that usually bring them little or nothing above subsistence, and the managers of which often go 'broke' and leave the Indians stranded hundreds of miles from home."

Several thousand Navajo, children of school age failed to receive any education, Burke said, because they are needed constantly to help care for sheep, which are the tribe's principal source of income. The children are unable to attend school during the regular season, but the commission suggests that continuous year-around schools in the Navajo regions would correct the situation.

Noting a steady gain in remunerative employment for the Indians, Commissioner Burke states that the demand for Indian labor is greater than the supply, "and no shortage of good wages and food prevails for Indians willing to work."

ONE FINED IN THEFT; SECOND DENIES CHARGE

Two alleged coal thieves, arrested Tuesday night by B. & O. Railroad Detectives Baker and Lewis, were arraigned in criminal court Wednesday.

Cecil Adams of 202 E. Third-st. admitted his guilt and was fined $10 and costs. Floyd Smith, of 235 E. Kibby-st, pleaded not guilty and was released on bond pending a hearing.

P. K. Hackenberger, 122 Euclid-av, who was also arrested and released on bond Tuesday night, is in the hospital and was unable to appear.

REPAIR WORK STARTS

Repair of curbs on N. Union-st paving has been started by George B. Walther Construction Co., and the work will be completed this year as a wind up of the city construction work, city hall officials announced Wednesday.

Portions of the curb settled during the past two weeks and at some places the curb is almost level with the level of the pavement opening the route of travel under the Pennsylvania railway.

Manager Bingham and Engineer Jewhurst have been advised of the existing condition and Thursday morning Jewhurst advised the city manager that the work would be completed this season.

RUM BOAT HAS LONG CAREER

Ship Sent Down Built for Spanish King

SAN PEDRO, Cal. — (By Associated Press) — With the sinking of the rum ship Guilia off the coast of Northern California recently, it was revealed here that the vessel had a history of romance and adventure and was said once to have been owned by a king of Spain. Here is her history as told on "the beach:"

BUILT 40 YEARS

When built 40 years ago for the Spanish king, the graceful clipper yacht, equipped with gold fitting and priceless draperies, was the envy of European royalty.

From the service of the king the vessel passed to that of an English merchant prince, then successively to war service, to a band of British adventurers who called her the Frontiersman, and finally, after the adventueers went bankrupt at San Pedro, into the liquor trade. She was not wanted by the legtimate lines of shipping, because she was a coal burning vessel on an oil burning coast.

Her decks equipped with machine guns to keep away hijackers, she sailed for Havana under the new name of Guilia. Returning from Cuba, the Guilia ran out of fuel off the west coast of Mexico. Her cabin was torn down and fed to the boiler fires, and as a last resort part of her rum cargo was fed to the flames a bottle at a time.

FUEL EXHAUSTED

At Ensenada, Lower California, 35 tons of coal were obtained, and the crew prayed that this fuel would take them to Vancouver. But her progress was retarded by a storm, and again the Guilia ran out of coal. She floundered at sea, a forbidden visitor to the nearby California shores which alone could give her aid.

The one-time royal clipper yacht went to the bottom, an abandoned rum runner, scuttled by her crew, reports say.

All the members of the crew were rescued by a passing ship, and brought to San Francisco.

RATE IS FIXED

Council Sets Nine Cent Schedule; Fight Looms

DELPHOS — Light rate fued between city council and Northwestern Ohio Light Co. will be up to the State Public Utilities commission at Columbus.

Council Tuesday night passed a nine cent rate with a one dollar minimum charge for a period of five years. The light company asks a ten cent rate, a one dollar minimum charge and a 50 year franchise.

The city is determined to stand on the rate passed on J. H. Stewart, local manager of the light company, announces that the company refuses to accept the city's rate

OIL PRODUCTION INCREASES

New Field Causes Jump in Week's Output

WELLS HERE ARE GOOD

Outside Interests Entering Nearby Districts

A gain of 9,426 barrels a day over the preceding week was reported from the week ending Nov. 29, in the oil fields of the United States. This is due to a field that has been found in Wortham, Texas and which is producing crude petroleum at a rate of about 75,000 barrels a day.

If the output continues as it has been in the last several weeks it is thought that the peak of production for the year will be reached sometime in February. It is expected then by experienced oil men that the output will decline rapidly.

Oklahoma showed only a slight decrease in production for last week and it is thought that production there will remian stationary for sometime. California, too, reported substantial gains but the declines in older fields will offset the gains in this region.

The Payne district in Ohio is the center of interest for it is reporting better wells and more of them all the time. These are all fair producers and the flow in them continues to be steady. The well drilled in recently at Roundhead is keeping a remarkable record.

Reports from the Melrose, Payne and Glenmore districts show the following results:

REPORTS GOOD

The Robinson Oil Co. is drill- around 400 feet on their No. 3 on the Francis Patterson farm in section 30, Brown-tp, in the Melrose district.

J. W. McIntosh is still fishing for the last of the string of casing, part of which was damaged by premature shot on No. 1, Otto C. and E. G. Lentz 20 acres, section 9, Benton-tp, Paulding-co. This well is being drilled for Lipps and others of Huntington, W. Va.

Robinson & Ledford are rigging up for No. 1, J. R. Finar, Sr. farm, for a test well in section 17, Benton-tp, Pauline-co. This location is in the gas area and will be watched by Ft. Wayne parties who predict commercial value to the Paulding-co product, just as soon as the operations can show wells with an open flow of a million cubic feet or better.

Lemunyon Bros., drilling for Stanton Isase and associates of Charleston, W. Va., on the Jacob Stabler farm, section 3, Benton-tp. They have experienced considerable trouble with caves in the big hole and have skidded the rig three times but are now going ahead and are past the dangerous point.

Robinson & Ledford are rigging up north of Pane for a test on the Stringer tract, this is adjacent to the Thomas Lamb acreage property. The well is being financed by Chicago men.

Weaver and others of Pennsylvania are rigging up to drill a test well one half mile due west of Glenmore in the Glenmore district. This location is somewhat west of the development accomplished a number of years ago in this locality.

BIG STEEL INCREASE

NEW YORK—Unfilled orders of the United States Steel Corporation on November 30, made public today, totalled 4,031,969 tons, an increase of 506,699 tons, compared with the end of the preceding month.

ALCOHOL AND GASOLINE

CINCINNATI—Denatured alcohol in drums 57; gasoline tank wagon 1c; 70 per cent 25c.

LEGAL NOTICE

Case No. 22194

In the Court of Common Pleas State of Ohio, Allen County, ss.
Harold L. Dick, Plaintiff, vs.
Alma Dick, Defendant.

Alma Dick, whose post office address is unknown, will take notice that Harold L. Dick, the plaintiff, has filed his petition for divorce against said Alma Dick, the defendant, in the Common Pleas Court of Allen County, Ohio, being case No. 22194 in said Court, therein praying for Divorce upon the ground of Extreme Cruelty, for custody of children and equitable relief; and that said defendant is required to answer on or before six (6) weeks from the date of the first publication hereof.

Upon failure of said defendant to answer within the time as prescribed by law the allegations of the petition will be taken as confessed by her to be true.

NAVAL DISPLAY PLANNED

Pacific Ocean To Be Scene of Activities

WASHINGTON — (By United Press) — Plans are going forward for a master display of American powerful armada in the Pacific next summer.

A score or more of ships with 30,000 men aboard will perform the biggest show of military fare yet attempted by the Reports from Japan indicate it interpreted in some quarters is being a questionable performance. The main maneuvers take place off Honolulu and most of the fleet will go around to Australia, thus giving practically the entire strength of the navy near the Japanese coast for several months the summer.

POSITION CHANGED

Officials here, however, look upon these reports and do believe they represent the of the Japanese government. They point out that the will merely take the place usual north Pacific cruise fleet and that instead of north, it is intended this go south. They deny the slightest diplomatic ance to the move.

LIMA PATTERNMAKERS TO BANQUET; PEARMAN TO BE SPEAKER; PLAN PROGRAM

A large number of patternmakers from the various shops in the city are expected to attend the third annual patternmakers' "pow-wow" to be held Thursday at 6:30 p. m. at the Y. M. C. A.

T. P. Pearman, "Y" general secretary, will preside at the gathering. James E. Morton, manager of the Lima Board of Commerce, will give the principal talk of the evening.

A chicken dinner will be served at 6:30 p. m., following which this program will be given by the patternmakers' own talent: orchestral selections, "pattern shop troubadours;" solos, Messrs. Kelly and Snyder; quartet, "pattern shop foursome;" instrumental duets, Clark and Miller, Baldwin and Schultz; talk, James Morton

Committee in charge of the event is made up of L. L. Landis, chairman; David Schultz and Robert Kelly.

WIFE ON STAND

Mrs. Perin Tells of Husband's Financial Straits

CINCINNATI — (By Associated Press) — Cross-examination of Mrs. Vinton Perin, wife of the defendant, was resumed today in criminal court, where Vinton Perin, Cincinnati grain dealer, is on trial for first degree murder of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Frances D. Rawson, wealthy widow.

During direct examination yesterday of Mrs. Perin, the defense brought out the statement that she and her husband accountered a great deal of financial trouble during the last four years, since he broke with his brother, Lyman Perin, with whom he had been in partnership. She insisted that her relatives not only did not like her husband, but they refused to aid him financially when he most needed assistance.

According to evidence introduced by the state, it was immediately following a quarrel over money matters that Perin shot and killed Mrs. Rawson, in her home here last September.

It is expected Perin will follow his wife on the stand today and that testimony of alienists as to his mental condition will conclude the defense. The state is expected also to have alienists testify in rebuttal, as well as some other witnesses.

CHRISTMAS PARTY FOR CHILDREN IS PLANNED BY ELKS COMMITTEE

Santa Claus will visit several thousand Lima kiddies at the Elks' home this Christmas.

Shoes, clothing and toys in abundance are to gladden the hearts of the kiddies on the day before Christmas when they gather in the auditorium of the club.

Not a kiddie in the town, who deserves help, is to be missed by the Santa Claus committee arranging to make this year's visit of Kris Kingle the greatest in the history of the lodge.

Amusements at the party are planned in addition to the well filled stocking. On Christmas day a movie show is planned, starting at 1 p. m., for the children not having a Christmas at home.

With several thousand children expected to participate in the "holiday party," a large expenditure to make the kiddies happy is required and the committee, headed by M. P. Colt, can use clothing, toys or cash donations from members anxious to make this year's party one that will be long remembered.

INK SPOILS RUG

MANCHESTER, England—Mrs Luella Garrick has sued Roger Grass, a barrister, for damages. Grass came into her house and spilled a bottle of purple ink on a multicolored rug which, Mrs. Garrick claims, was handed down to her from the Caesars. She claims that the rug is completely ruined.

TURKISH SANTA CLAUS

CONSTANTINOPLE—A Turkish Santa Claus has appeared on the scene. Adopting the custom of Christian nations, a Constantinople merchant has installed a red-costumed Santa in his toy department. There is only one defect in his makeup. This Santa has a black, pointed beard.

NAVAL DISPLAY PLANNED

Pacific Ocean To Be Scene of Activities

WASHINGTON — (By United Press) — Plans are going forard now for a master display of America's powerful armada in the Pacific next summer.

A score or more of ships with about 30,000 men aboard will perform in the biggest show of mimic warfare yet attempted by the Navy.

Reports from Japan indicate it is interpreted in some quarters there as being a questionable performance. The main maneuvers will take place off Honolulu and then most of the fleet will go southward to Australia, thus keeping practically the entire strength of the navy near the Japanese coast for several months during the summer.

DIRECTION CHANGED

Officials here, however, look lightly upon these reports and do not believe they represent the opinion of the Japanese government. They point out that the cruise will merely take the place of the usual north Pacific cruise of the fleet and that instead of going north, it is intended this time to go south. They deny there is the slightest diplomatic significance to the move.

The ships will congregate in Honolulu early in June. About July 1 most of them will set out for Australia under command of Admiral Coontz. The battlefleet will consist of three battleship divisions, a light cruiser division from the Atlantic scouting fleet, two destroyer divisions and the usual retinue of tenders and storeships.

The project hinges upon obtaining the expected appropriation for the move from Congress. It also remains to obtain necessary sanction from British authorities thru the State Department, but this is expected to be arraigned without difficulty within a few weeks. Along with the fleet a special ship will carry several hundred editors of American newspapers who are being invited to go along to watch the tests.

Secretary of the Navy Curtis D. Wilbur, in explaining the motives of the cruise declared he believed it would cement the friendship between Australia and the United States and result in still more cordial relations between the two peoples.

BETTER ACQUAINTED

"It will enable them to know us better and us to know them better," he said.

More attention has been directed to the maneuvers this year than previously because of interest aroused in the manner in which the arms conference treaties are being enforced. It is admitted by Wilbur and all officials of the Navy Department that the 5-5-3 ratio is not actually in force and that America's fighting men on the sea are inferior to Great Britain. Our tonnage does not total as much as the English ships and the range of our guns is considerably shorter.

Likewise a group of battleships in the Atlantic scouting fleet have been thrown out of commission. Light cruisers must also be constructed to raise the general standard to an equality with the other signatory powers. The matter is to be fought out in this session of Congress and perhaps an investigation may be undertaken to determine the exact facts concerning America's inferiority on the seas.

"BACK TO THE LAND" IS NOW SLOGAN IN BRITAIN

LONDON — "Back to the Land" is today's slogan in Britain.

The townward tide is ebbing. The swing of the pendulum is not a mere exit of week-enders, but a flow of metropolitans desiring to take up rural occupations. And a lot of the "Heeland" lads and lassies brought to the cities by wartime work in the factories and the army are getting homesick.

"The industrial exodus from the towns is definite," says a report of the commission on development of village and rural life. "As more houses are built in the countryside its pace will increase."

Small country industries are being encouraged in order to absorb workers during the slack seasons of farm work.

BUSINESS MEN TO VISIT SHAWNEE GRANGE MEET

Fifty men and their wives and guests, most of whom are connected with the Lima Board of Commerce, will leave the board headquarters on N. Elizabeth-st at 7:30 p. m. Friday to attend a meeting of the Shawnee grange at the grange hall south of the city.

City Manager C. A. Bingham will be the principal speaker. He will talk on "The Attitude of the City Administration to Suburban Residents." H. O. Bentley, prominent local attorney, will talk on "The Interdependence of the City and County." Readings of James Whitcomb Riley selections will be given by Howard Kay. Lima business man. A quartet of Lima singers will also appear on the program.

HEAVY SNOWFALL

EDINBURGH — Recent snowfall in Edinburgh reached an almost unprecedented depth. Business men were unable to get to their offices for several hours until the snow had been cleared away. Several were killed in the storm and electric light service was completely paralyzed.

CHINESE TYPEWRITERS

PEKING — A Chinese inventor has devised a typewriter with a keyboard containing hundreds of Chinese characters. The huge machine occupies almost an entire room and is operated by both the hands and the feet. It is improbable that the machine will come into popular use, however.

QUART OF WATER CLEANS KIDNEYS

Take a Little Salts if Your Back Hurts, or Bladder Is Troubling You

No man or woman can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Eating too much rich food creates acids, which excite the kidneys. They become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood. Then we get sick. Rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders often come from sluggish kidneys

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys, or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, begin drinking a quart of water each day, also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, and in a few days your kidneys may act fine.

This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to flush and stimulate the kidneys; also to help neutralize the acids in the system, so they no longer cause irritation, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to help keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby often avoiding serious kidney complications. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year. adv
